MEXICAN REBELS MODIFY DEMANDS

WANT TO NAME THREE CABINET MEMBERS

Madero Will Probably Be Can- didate for President at Next Election

Juarez, Mexico, May 16.—Upon the willingness of the Mexican government to grant the insurgents permission to name three members of the cabinet and the governors of 14 of the 27 Mexican states depends the issue of restoring peace in Mexico.

This proposition, a slight modification of the original demand of the rebels, which called for four portfolios of the cabinet, is the reply which was made today to the offer of the federal government of one cabinet member and ten governorships as the price of peace.

The answer from the government is expected here today.

The insurgents, immediately after peace is declared, will form a political party which probably will be called the "progressive" party. As soon as peace is completely restored and General Diaz follows out his intentions of resigning, which insurgents believe will be in two or three months, the new party will devote itself to preparing for a national campaign.

Undoubtedly Francisco I. Madero, Jr., will be the candidate for president, while it is considered likely that Dr. Vasquez Gomez may run for vice-president, as he did in the last election. It is possible that Dr. Gomez will occupy one of the cabinet positions which may be given the rebels at the present time, and it is said he would later resign to become a candidate for vice-president.

General Arriaga, however, is expected here today.

Juarez, May 16.—(Later.)—Within a few hours a general armistice throughout Mexico will be declared by the federal government and the revolutionists. The peace proposals which had passed back and forth during the day had reached a point at 1:30 o'clock, where their acceptance by the insurgents was only a matter of a few hours. This statement was vouchsafed by one of the insurgent chiefs, who today received word of the government's proposals.

Rejoins the Rebels.

Chihuahua, Mexico, May 16, via El Paso, Texas, May 16.—Edward Hay, member of a prominent family in Mexico City, and an insurgent leader, who was captured at Casas Grandes on March 6, escaped from the hospital here and has rejoined the rebels. Hay (Concluded on page 2.)

INSURGENTS LOOT CITY IN MEXICO

Drunken Rebels Defy Officers and Rob Banks and Business Houses

Mexico City, May 16.—Looting and pillaging occurred at Pachuca during the early hours of today. Following the surrender of the city to the rebels, the rebels became drunk and defied their commanders. The town people in terror barricaded their homes and remained concealed. The banks were looted.

Pachuca is a mining city of 40,000 population, capital of the state of Hidalgo, and sixty miles northeast of Mexico City.

Sunday night it fell into the hands of the revolutionists under Col. Castrejon, who is operating under the direction of Gen. Giguero. The capture was effected without fighting, the invaders swarming into the city and taking possession of the government buildings without a shot being fired.

During last night many of the rebels helped themselves liberally to the saloon supplies and half crated defiled the orders of their commanders, running through the streets shouting and shooting, the lawlessness taking the form of robbery in a short time.

Charges of dynamite were placed under the foundations of banks and exploded. Where ever entrance was effected the banks were looted. The rioters then turned their attention to commercial houses which were robbed of their stocks.

One of the first acts of rioters was to force the doors of jails and release the prisoners. This forenoon a semblance of order had been restored.

HOTEL STEWARD'S SUICIDE.

Moore Jaw, Sask., May 16.—James McCarthy, chief steward of the Cecil hotel, committed suicide in the cellar of the hotel yesterday by blowing his head to pieces with a shotgun. He home-stayed in Manitoba and left a wife in Winnipeg. Domestic troubles are believed to have been the cause. Deceased was 35 years old, and was formerly married at several west end of London, England, hotels, and also in Brussels and Monte Carlo.

BISHOP STRINGER'S JOURNEY.

Will Carry Advice to Fort Macpherson and Herschel Island.

Dawson, Y. T., May 16.—Bishop Stringer will leave here next week for Rampart House with the international survey expedition and will probably carry advice for Fort Macpherson and Herschel Island.

Bishop Stringer and Major Snyder, the commander of the Northwest Mounted Police in the Yukon, deny emphatically the Victoria telegraphic advice saying that the lost Macpherson-Dawson expedition was poisoned and that Indians were responsible. They have secured full advice from Macpherson by mail and the diaries of the men contain no confirmation of any poisoning, except that they probably had eaten deteriorating food.

CHURCH UNION.

St. Louis, May 16.—English Lutheran synod yesterday lost its identity as a distinct denomination, when the eighty congregations comprising this branch of the Missouri synod became merged with the 3,000 German congregations. Henceforth the English churches will comprise the first of twenty-four districts of the Lutheran church in the United States.

BOY DIES OF LOCKJAW.

Brandford, May 16.—Harry Wilson, 15 years old, died of lockjaw in the hospital after great suffering. Recently while working at Silsby woolen mill he had his hand crushed in a machine. Lockjaw developed shortly after. He is a son of William Wilson, a well known resident.

DEFENCE POLICY OF AUSTRALIA

INTERVIEW WITH COMMONWEALTH PREMIER

London Standard Says There is Much to Learn From Australians

London, May 16.—Hon. Andrew Fisher, the Australian premier, who is now here, has been interviewed by a large number of labor M. P.'s. Mr. Fisher described the policy of his government with regard to military and naval questions as non-aggressive and purely defensive. The training of young men was on the cadet pattern, and it was compulsory that all able-bodied men should undergo a short period of training every year in the Commonwealth.

It was stated that Mr. Fisher had just passed a contract for a second class cruiser to cost £200,000. Against the Henderson scheme, he said the government was inclined to favor it as a whole.

Mr. Fisher refused to enter into discussion on questions of tariff preference. He said the labor party was not opposed to immigration, and the people of the Mother Country would be as well advised in going to Australia as any place they might consider going to.

At a later interview Mr. Fisher in regard to the referendum proposals said they were merely delayed and will be carried into effect when next submitted to a vote of the people. He expressed approval of the practice of holding conferences of representatives of all the various states of the empire at which representatives of all interests, both industrial and social, should meet frequently and visit each other's country, and in this way the empire would be linked up.

The Standard says the rise in Australia of Australian statesmen has in recent times been extraordinary, and the wisest of us are often fain to confess that there is much to learn from them. The way in which the principle of the referendum was put into practice is a striking example of what we ourselves might do if we were gifted with Australian common sense. The difficulties encountered before arriving at any large scheme of federal immigration might be termed formidable, but judging from the moderate and circumspect spirit of the cabinet now in power it is reasonable to hope that they might be surmounted.

PROPOSED PAYMENT OF BRITISH MEMBERS

Included in Suggestions Pre- sented by Chancellor in His Budget Speech

London, May 16.—Chancellor Lloyd George presented the budget in the House of Commons today. About the only novelty it contains is a proposal to pay members of the House of Commons a salary of £5,000 a year.

The chancellor's estimated expenditure for the current year is £498,170,000, which is £28,750,000 more than last year. The chancellor estimated the revenue for the current year at £469,420,000. No fresh taxation is provided.

MORLEY ATTACKS PUBLICITY RATES

WOULD DO BUSINESS WITH WEEKLY SHEET

Suggestion Received With Laughter by the Aldermen— Ambitions of Paper

Mayor Morley, civic head of Victoria, has just found time from his years of experience to observe that the corporation over whose business he has the honor to preside is, as he thinks, being charged too much for the advertising it has to indulge in by the daily papers.

At any rate that was the form in which he brought the matter before the notice of the council at last night's meeting. His suggestion that the papers with which the city does its advertising business should be more reasonable in their charges or have to tender for the contract did not, however, meet with a great deal of sympathy. In fact, the hilarity with which this belated scheme of alleged economy was greeted indicated that there might be more in the suggestion than appeared on the surface.

For the benefit of those who might not be endowed with the vision necessary to make the discovery it might be stated that there is a weekly publication known as the "News" in this city, and it is an open secret that Mayor Morley is more than indirectly connected with it. As a matter of fact, the mayor's triumphant return to office after the recall election was claimed to be due in large measure to the influence of this obscure but potential publication. Without expressly committing it to ambitions to evolve into a daily, Mayor Morley, on being baited as to its desires in that connection, suggested that it might do so and also that it would soon see the city's advertising in the "News" as in any other paper in the city.

"You surely don't call it a newspaper," remarked Ald. H. M. Fullerton, chidingly. From that line of attack there was apparently no defence, for the mayor remained silent, although he was glib enough in enumerating the alleged shortcomings of the daily newspapers in the city.

"We are paying an enormous amount to these papers in advertising," he said, "and I think it is not time we tried to get better terms from them. We give each of them nearly a page of advertising every day and I think therefore we should get a lower rate, a rate based upon so much per page and not upon the line. I think we should find out what the best advertising merchants in the town are paying and then base our claim upon that. In any event there is no reason why we should not have terms for the advertising we are not prepared to advertise in two papers."

Ald. Langley—"Advertise in the News" (Laughter).

Mayor Morley—"I would as soon see it in the News as in any other."

Ald. Hunter—"Ah, I see the point. The News is thinking of coming out as a daily."

Recognizing that the mayor was serious in what looked like an attempt to bring the newspapers to their knees, Ald. H. M. Fullerton expressed the view that it was not right to attempt to cut the papers down too fine. They gave the city a great lot of advertising, and in the matter of publicity work were doing the city an immense service.

The only point which his worship seemed to agree with was that the papers gave the aldermen a great lot of advertising of a kind.

He finally suggested that the city clerk and assistant clerk be appointed a secret commission to discover what the merchants in town paid for their advertising. The idea did not catch on, however, and the matter dropped, although it is likely that it will be revived later.

RAID BY SECRET SERVICE AGENTS

Four Alleged Counterfeiters Are Captured in New York

New York, May 16.—A clever plan to circulate counterfeit $5 bills in Alaska is believed by secret service agents to have been frustrated by the arrest yesterday of four men and a woman in a raid on an alleged counterfeiters' den here. Two front teeth of a woman prisoner were set with diamonds. It was through this "woman with the diamond teeth," the secret service men said, that the suspects were traced. Several printing presses, lithographing instruments and stones and many impressions of $5 bills were secured. The government agents say the party had made plans to travel to Alaska and circulate the counterfeit bills there. The prisoners are all foreigners except James Glanard, his wife being "the woman with the diamond teeth."

SHOT WHILE TRYING TO SAVE FATHER

Girl Rushes Between Men En- gaged in Duel and is In- stantly Killed

Rixby, Mo., May 16.—In an attempt to save the life of her father, who was fighting a duel with Drew Pitts, a neighbor, Effie Butler, 19 years old, rushed between the two men and was shot and killed by Pitts yesterday. The girl's father, James Butler, 60 years old, was shot twice in the body and will probably die. Pitts went to Trenton, Mo., and surrendered to the sheriff.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE.

Medicine Hat, May 16.—Constable E. H. Smith, a deserter from the R. N. W. M. P., is a fugitive from justice. Mounted police are searching the country for him and in event of his capture he will be charged with forging drafts on a number of western branches of chartered banks. Recently he has been stationed along the Crow's Nest line.

POLE VAULTING.

(Special to the Times.)

Painesville, Ohio, May 16.—The feat of Ruth Spencer of Mansfield, Ohio, at the Lake Erie track met yesterday, when she cleared the bar at five feet four inches in the pole vaulting contest, broke the world's inter-collegiate woman's pole vaulting record.

WILL BOW TO COURT'S DECREE

SOLICITOR FOR STANDARD OIL MAKES STATEMENT

All Companies Will Carry on Business Under Their Own Officers

New York, May 16.—The first word came from the Standard Oil Company today on the decision against it yesterday by the Supreme court. It makes two points clear, first that there will be no contempt by the company; it also presents the Supreme court's opinion and the remarks of Justice Harlan and not having yet seen the opinion of the court in full, it is impossible to make any lengthy statement. It may, however, be said now that the Standard Oil Company will obey the decree of the court and that all the companies embraced in the court's decree will carry on their business under the direction of their own officers and through their own corporate organizations.

Wall Street had its ear to the regu-lar cables to-day waiting for news of the opening markets across the Atlantic, which would test the effect of yesterday's decision of the Supreme Court of the United States declaring the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey an illegal monopoly.

The first news was reassuring, although apparently not unexpected. The fact that the London stock market opened half a point to a point below yesterday's New York close and quickly strengthened on New York buying orders indicated that the buying had been general and showed the quality of the overnight verdict of the court's decision.

Considering Policy.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—The government's policy in dealing with "trusts" and combinations of capital, as it must be shaped in the light of the supreme court's decision in the Standard Oil case, was discussed by President Taft and his cabinet to-day. The chief justice had his opinion well arranged before he spoke and the court in declaring that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its nineteen subsidiary companies were a conspiracy against combination and "unreasonable" restraint of trade, did not condemn all great inter-state corporations and did not hold that "every" restraint of trade was a violation of law. In other words the court seems to have upheld the doctrine that there are "good" and "bad" trusts and that the Standard Oil was a "bad" trust.

Attorney-General Wickersham may consider criminal prosecutions of the officials of the Standard Oil Company. It is said that if oil trust officials should plead immunity under the statute of limitations, the government could take the position that the combination in restraint of trade was a continuing conspiracy until the moment the court ordered it dissolved.

MEMORIAL TO QUEEN VICTORIA

KING GEORGE PERFORMS UNVEILING CEREMONY

Emperor William and Other Members of British and Ger- man Royal Families Present

London, May 16.—The great memorial to Queen Victoria, fronted by a statue of the late Queen, on the plaza before Buckingham palace, was unveiled to-day by Queen Victoria's grandson, King George V. The ceremony was conducted at noon in the presence of Emperor William and other descendants of the Queen, numerous members of the British and German royal families, including Emperor Augustus Victoria and Princess Louise, members of the cabinet, colonial representatives and many other prominent personages.

The weather was perfect and St. James' park was crowded.

The Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London performed the religious rites, with music by the massed choirs from several cathedrals and chapels, conducted by Sir Walter Parratt, who was private organist to the late Queen.

King George delivered a speech in eulogy to Queen Victoria, describing the monument as "The tribute of races and regions more varied in character and circumstances than have ever been combined before upon a common purpose."

His Majesty referred feelingly to the pleasure afforded by the visit of the German royal family, saying: "It is a source of deep satisfaction to me and my family that my dear cousin, the German Emperor, accompanied by the Empress, is present at this historic ceremony. Strong and loving ties of kinship and friendship unite our thrones and persons."

As a spectacle the unveiling was brilliant. King George and Emperor William wore the uniforms of British field marshals.

The Prince of Wales wore the uniform of a naval cadet and the younger Prince were in white naval suits.

Outside the circle of royalty were the heads of the embassies and their wives.

Sculptor Knighted.

(Special to the Times.)

London, May 16.—The unveiling of the Victoria memorial to-day by King George was a brilliant ceremony, under glorious weather conditions. His Majesty walked from Buckingham palace with the Kaiser, and Queen Mary with the Kaiserine. There were also present the Duke of Connaught, Prince Arthur and practically all the members of the royal family.

The address, which was read by Lord Bessier, said that every corner of the Empire had contributed to the memorial.

The King, in the course of his reply, said: "The loyal dominions and colonies beyond the seas, which grew so vast in prosperity and strength during their reign, and whose loyalty centered more directly upon her august person, have from every part and quarter of the globe united to enshrine her memory. This monument represents the tributes of races and regions more various in character and circumstances than have ever been centered before upon a common purpose."

A pleasing incident was the knight- ing of Thomas Brock, the famous sculptor, who designed the memorial, at the close of the ceremony by His Majesty.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Peterboro, Ont., May 16.—Michael O'Brien, a well known driver, dropped dead yesterday just after returning from a business trip to Saskatoon.

HUNTING TRAGEDY IN THE YUKON

Prospector Ends Life After Ac- cidentally Shooting Friend Who Bled to Death

Dawson, Y. T., May 16.—Joseph Shipman was accidentally shot in the shoulder when mistaken for a bear by Gustave Lindell, a prospector. Both were hunting on the north fork of the Klondike. While Lindell went for help, Shipman bled to death, although alone only a very short time. On Sunday night Lindell and John Hughes watched over the body during the night. Later Lindell stepped into a cabin close to Fisher's road house on the north fork, next door to where the body lay, and committed suicide by sending a bullet through his brain. Shipman was foreman of the machine shops of the Canadian Klondike Dredging Company, operating on Bear creek. He was a single man and had been in the Yukon several years. He had been in the Yukon several years. He had been in the Yukon several years. He had been in the Yukon several years.

ZEPPELIN'S BIG AIRSHIP A WRECK

MISFORTUNE CONTINUES TO FOLLOW AERONAUT

Dirigible Balloon Comes to Grief When About to Start on Flight

Dusseldorf, May 16.—After a career of six weeks, the Deutschland, latest of the models of Count Zeppelin's ill-fated dirigible balloons, stranded to-day on the roof of its shed, a total wreck. The crew and passengers escaped injury.

The accident occurred as the Deutschland was being released for a passenger trip. Eight passengers, four men and four women, had seated themselves in the cabin, the crew were at their posts and 200 men on the ground clung to the guide-ropes as the powerful craft slowly worked from her berth and under pressure of over half a million cubic feet of gas struggled to be free.

Just as the airship cleared the shed, a violent gust of wind drove her back against the entrance. With the impact several of the balloonettes burst and released was destroying her equilibrium. The airship dropped on the roof of the shed, her back broken, her hull dangling over one edge. A fire brigade, hurriedly summoned to the scene, ran a ladder to the top of the balloon shed and pulled the passengers and crew out of the wreck.

The Deutschland was built to replace the airship which had been wrecked a few months ago.

Today's was the sixth serious accident which has befallen the Zeppelin dirigibles.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Lund, Ut., May 16.—Three men were killed by the overturning of an automobile between Cedar City and Lund. They were Mexican railroad section hands. The dead: Jose Padella, Benjamin Centias, Jesus Prieta. The injured are: S. W. O'Donnell, Dapt Dix and Ollie Blomgren, the chauffeur. Their injuries are not dangerous.

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 16.—J. W. Saultin was instantly killed yesterday at the coke plant of the Lake Superior corporation by falling between two coke cars. Both legs were cut off.

INCREASING MILEAGE OF INTERCOLONIAL

Thirteen Branches, Totalling 643 Miles, to Be Leased by Government

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, May 16.—In the House this morning Hon. G. E. Graham, minister of railways, gave notice of a resolution under which he will be able to enlarge the Intercolonial by the addition of 13 branches, totalling 643 miles. The government recently took power to build two new branch lines in Nova Scotia, which will bring the total additional mileage of the Intercolonial to almost 1,000 miles. The branches are to be leased for 99 years, and the value of the lease fixed by the Exchequer court.

SECHLT WRECK ENQUIRY OPENS

SANK IN SECOND TIDE RIP SUDDENLY

Former Master Heard—En- gines Inspected One Year Prior to Accident

The inquiry into the wreck of the steamer Sechelt, wrecked off Church Point on March 24, was commenced this morning in the assize court room at the provincial court house buildings; before Mr. Justice Martin and Captains Neurotors and Reid.

W. H. Langley and M. B. Jackson were present on behalf of the Dominion government, Oscar C. Bass appeared for Captain Jarvis, partner of the deceased master of the ship, and H. W. R. Moore for the provincial government.

Mr. Langley called Henry Charles, an Indian of Beachy Bay, an eye-witness of the disaster, who said that the vessel was struck by a wave in the first tide rip off Beachy Bay, that she then righted but in the second tide rip she was again struck on the starboard side and sank after having once more gained an upright position.

The witness said that from the shore he watched a black patch on the side of the ship, but he could not say if it were a painted mark or represented that the side loading doors were open. The remainder of the ship on the starboard view was grey. At the time she went down, the witness said, the Sechelt was bucking down with the sea on her head and was apparently going steadily along. The wind was west.

Dominion Government Boiler Inspector H. H. Robertson said he had inspected the machinery of the ship April 12, 1910, and her boiler was reinspected October, 1910, when she was being re-tubed. He inspected the boiler both inside and outside. She was equipped with pumps and syphon and carried a four-blade propeller. He considered her a staunch little craft. She had a free-board of two feet.

Replying to Mr. Moore's question as to his knowledge of the condition of the machinery in March last, witness said he believed the ship to be in shape because, under section 657 of the Shipping Act, officers or engineers were required to report any accident to the machinery, and the engineers had reported the re-tubing of the boiler in October, 1910. Her boiler would weigh seven tons.

To Mr. Bass the witness said the matter was too important a one to take the word of the engineer or chances of any kind.

ACTION AGAINST LABOR LEADERS

Gompers, Mitchell and Morri- son Again Accused of Contempt of Court

Washington, D. C., 16.—The Supreme court of the district of Columbia in its own initiative, instituted proceedings to-day for alleged contempt against President Samuel Gompers, vice-president John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of labor. The sentences of imprisonment imposed on these men by this court were yesterday revoked by the Supreme Court of the United States and the case remanded to the district Supreme court.

Mr. Gompers, when told of the action of the district court said: "Justice Wright can go just as far as he likes. He will find we are not running away, not even from him."

The Supreme Court of the United States in setting aside the sentences of imprisonment held the case on the ground that the lower court had acted contumaciously in its refusal to accept a civil offence against the Buck Stove and Range company and that the offences were punishable only by a fine to be paid to the wronged corporation.

Justice Lamar in handing down the decision called attention to the fact, however, that if the lower court felt aggrieved it could have brought criminal contempt proceedings in the premises and have inflicted a jail sentence.

The lower court had been quick to take advantage of the opportunity offered to re-open the case.

As the labor dispute which brought the case into court had been ended, it was presumed the matter would be allowed to drop.

Justice Wright of the district Supreme court, who imposed the sentences on Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, in instituting the proceedings anew to-day, appointed counsel for the Buck Stove and Range company to inquire "forthwith" into the question of whether labor leaders were in violation of the court order. They were instructed to report to the court whether in their opinion the labor leaders were guilty of contempt in violating the injunction in the publication of the so-called boycott list in American Federationist—the official organ of the labor federation.

MAY BE FORCED TO CLOSE MINESCOKE RESERVES
NEARLY EXHAUSTEDThousands May Be Thrown Out of Work Owing to Crow's Nest Strike

Vancouver, May 16.—A general suspension of mining and smelting operations in the Trail Creek mining division, including Rossland and the Boundary district, is expected to take place within the next week as a direct result of the strike of the coal miners in the Crow's Nest Pass district. It will mean that thousands of men will be thrown out of employment. The exhaustion of the coke reserves on hand when the strike occurred on April 1, means the closing down of the smelters and the incidental suspension of work in the mines at Rossland as well as in the properties of the Granby Consolidated at Phoenix and those of the British Columbia Copper Company near Greenwood.

W. A. Williams, superintendent of the Granby smelter at Grand Forks, is at the Hotel Vancouver on his way home from the Portland Canal district. He stated that the company is face to face with the prospect of closing down within the next four days, when the coke reserves which amounted to 25,000 tons at the outbreak of the coal miners' strike, will have been exhausted.

The plant with its eight furnaces, has a normal treatment capacity of nearly 30,000 tons weekly. Only six of the batteries have been in operation since April 1. Mr. Williams has been advised that there is little likelihood of the strike being settled in the near future, the conciliation board having just adjourned for three weeks. He did not think that the Granby would seek to secure coke supplies from Pennsylvania owing to the excessive cost and the present low price of copper. On a former occasion when the coal miners were on strike the Granby used imported coke because copper was then quoted at about 25 cents per pound, or 100 per cent. higher than the figure now prevailing.

It is understood that the coke reserves of the smelter of the Canadian Consolidated at Trail have been nearly exhausted and that the situation at the Greenwood smelter of the British Columbia Copper Company is very little better. The Greenwood plant is operating on a reduced scale, a small supply of coke having been imported from Pennsylvania to tide over in the expectation of an early settlement of the strike. As the outlook is not bright, a tie-up of the Greenwood smelter is also expected to follow within a week or two. With the closing down of the three smelters several thousand miners will also be thrown out of work.

A party of Granby officials including Mr. F. M. Sylvester, assistant general manager, W. A. Williams, superintendent of the smelter, and O. E. Smith, Jr., superintendent of the mines at Phoenix, and Wyolen Williams, consulting engineer, arrived Saturday night from Goose Bay, Observatory Inlet, Portland Canal district, where they made a detailed examination of the Hidden Creek group of old copper claims now under bond to the Granby corporation. A payment on the $400,000 bond for a 50 per cent. interest in the group is due M. K. Rodgers and associates early next month. The visitors seemed to have been favorably impressed with the mineral showings in the north but declined to make any official statement before submitting a report to the Granby.

It is significant that of the intentions of the company to engage in mining in northern British Columbia on a large scale that Mr. Williams after visiting the Hidden Creek mine proceeded to inspect property in southeastern Alaska, including Prince of Wales Island. Several members of the party will confer with the smelter officials at Ladysmith.

It is probable that the ore from the Hidden Creek property will be treated at Ladysmith pending the erection of a plant in the north by the Granby corporation.

MECHANIC SHOT.

San Bernardino, Cal., May 15.—A. Ruel Sedam, a mechanic employed by the Santa Fe railroad, was shot and killed yesterday by his son-in-law, Wm. Brown, as he was about to kill his wife with a hatchet. Sedam suffered an injury to his head some time ago and is thought to have been seized with a sudden homicidal mania.

SHE WAS SURPRISED

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings: "I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness was a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away."

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure Bowel and Kidney as well as Liver troubles, and keep you healthy. 25c a box at your dealer's.

THINKING THEMES
BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

While engaged in the composition of "Tristan and Isolde" Wagner wrote to Liszt: "I have just played over my first half of Act 1 and I must say to myself what der Heil Gott! when He had finished part of the world—it is good! I have no one to praise me—just as it was in the case of the Creator 6,000 years ago—and so I say to myself, Richard, you're a great fellow!"

Again while writing this same opera, his masterpiece, in which he gave full vent, unafraid, to his musical convictions, he says, "I find the world less and less necessary to me; I could work on, if I never had a thing published."

Here is a glimpse of the supreme joy of a man in his work. Robert Louis Stevenson said once that, dearly as he loved his wife, he could conceive of living on without her; should she die, and so of all other things dear and pleasurable, but that he could not at all conceive of any existence apart from his work.

The older I get the more it is borne in upon me that this notion of Stevenson's is right, and that the highest, noblest, most permanent form of joy, in this world or in the next, is to feel within one's self the ability to do something, to have the chance and health to do it, and actually to do it. It is not the pay nor the praise of it, it is the work itself that counts. "My father worketh hitherto, and I work," said the Master; and our divinest joy therefore is work.

I believe with Schopenhauer that "the highest joy is the consciousness and use of one's forces."

JEWS CONTINUE TO LEAVE KIEVExcitement on Finding of Body of Murdered Boy Has Not Yet Subsidized

Kiev, Russia, May 16.—The ability of the authorities to preserve public order Sunday, the date reported to have been set for a Jewish massacre, has had a reassuring effect on the Jewish people; but the exodus of the more wealthy Jews continues, and the panic will not subside completely until the circumstances of an alleged ritualistic murder have been explained and the responsibility for the crime fixed.

On February 18, last, the body of a boy named Yushchinski was found horribly mutilated in a cave close by the Jewish quarter in this city. The lad was thirteen years old, a Christian and a student at the local orthodox seminary. Certain circumstances of the killing linked with the inability of authorities to detect the murderers, resulted in the charge by their enemies that Jews had made the youth a victim of a ritualistic murder, an alleged religious ceremony, which had been the subject of controversy for centuries.

An examination of the body showed that it had been cut in 45 places with a knife and an ax. A post mortem determined that the victim had been tortured and all the wounds inflicted before life was extinct. His hands tied and a gag in his mouth, the boy had been held upright as the blood flowed downward. Seven deep stabs in the region of the heart finally put an end to his agony.

When death ensued the stripped body was re-clothed. The fact that no blood spots were found on the clothing led to the claim that all the blood had left the body before the cutting was ended. Professor Obolinsky and Dr. Tufanoff ascertained that the body had been removed to the cave five or six hours after death, but before muscular rigidity set in. The supposition based thereon was that Yushchinski had been tortured and murdered somewhere in the neighboring Jewish quarter and the body deposited in the cave. It is a break as the rules of the incriminating Jewish sect. Hassides, are alleged to forbid the burial of ritualistic victims.

CHURCH AND STATE.

Lisbon, May 16.—A Lisbon newspaper says that according to a communication received from the Vatican the Pope has concluded an examination of the Association law and absolutely condemned it. As it is not to be enforced until July 1, he will await that date before expressing his opinion officially, the paper says, in the hope that during the interim the opposition of Portuguese clergy against the law and their refusal to take stipends, may induce the provisional government to alter some of its most stringent clauses. It is reported that if the act of the incriminating forced many churches will be closed and the priesthood deprived of all property. It is well known in official circles that the government desires to avoid a rupture with the Holy See.

JAPANESE IN NEW CALEDONIA.

Melbourne, May 16.—The flow of Japanese immigration southward in the Pacific ocean continues to give rise to apprehensions in Australia. The latest display of the activity of the Japanese as settlers has been discovered in New Caledonia. The number of Japanese there has increased so rapidly that they bid fair to outnumber the French. The Japanese are chiefly war veterans who have completed their term of service with the army.

WOMEN AID MEN
IN FIGHTING POLICEStrike Riot at Grand Rapids—
Firemen Quell Disturbance
With Streams of Water

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 16.—At least a score of policemen were injured and many members of a mob of two thousand striking furniture workers and sympathizers were hurt in a riot at the plant of the Widdicombs Furniture Company last night. Several of the injured may die.

After a fight with revolvers, clubs and stones, in which the police were badly beaten, a fire engine company attacked the mob with streams of water and succeeded in quelling the disturbance. The trouble started when a mob of about 200 men, women and boys attacked an automobile driver employed by Ralph Widdicombs, of the furniture company, who was taking strike breakers from the factory.

Policemen were hurried to the scene and soon began firing, and the fire was returned by rioters. Several policemen were knocked senseless, my missiles hurled by women.

Judge Rejects Proposal to Hold Court in Great Northern Railway Offices.

Seattle, Wash., May 16.—"The county may not have as commodious quarters as the Great Northern Railway Company, but that will not be any excuse for holding court in the depot."

In substantially these words, Judge Boyd J. Tallman, turned down the proposition to have a special judge try two suits in which the Great Northern is interested, in the company's office.

Everett Smith was to be special judge in two injunction cases of Bartholomew Healy against a subsidiary corporation of the Great Northern. The police were the attorneys that their request to establish court at the depot would be granted that County Clerk Sickles was asked to send down a deputy clerk. Sickles asked Judge Tallman about it.

"Where is the special judge to hold court?" asked the judge.

"There are commodious quarters at the depot that will accommodate the situation properly," was the reply.

Then Judge Tallman spoke out.

WORKMAN CASE REVIVED.

Theological Professor Examined on Alleged Heterodox Views

Montreal, May 16.—The now famous Workman libel case, taken by the Rev. Dr. Workman, formerly of the Wesleyan Theological College, against the college authorities, has reappeared in the courts again. Dr. Workman is now claiming damages to the extent of $10,000, twice as much as he originally sued for, claiming that, since the case was last in the public eye, the defendants have reiterated and given much publicity to the statements concerning his creed, to which he had originally taken exception.

Rev. Dr. Workman was closely examined regarding his theological views during the course of the hearing. He was in the course of the hearing the opinion of Christ and expressed the opinion that the contentions of Matthew and Luke that Joseph was the father of Jesus were unhistorical and declared that he had an open mind regarding

THE LIBRARY BY-LAW.

On Monday of next week the ratepayers will be called on to vote upon several by-laws authorizing expenditure of various sums of money for civic purposes. Among them is one not exactly of this nature but equally worthy with each of the others if the city is to maintain its intellectual progress along with the evidences of forward movement in other matters. The by-law is to authorize this year an expenditure of $5,000 more than, or double, the maximum amount that may be expended for library purposes under the existing by-laws, and also to change the stipulation of the maximum amount that may be expended annually from $5,000 to $25,000.

It may not be inadvisable to point out in relation to the vote on this by-law that to have a well-equipped library should be a matter of pride to every city as well as of the greatest convenience to a large number of citizens and visitors whose only treasure of intellectual treasure it is. No lover of books who has travelled has not at times realized how great a convenience such a public institution is in a strange place. This grows out of the necessity for familiarizing oneself with the facts of history and other associated data which add much to the appreciation of the local features of any historic or capital city.

To give the best results, however, thorough equipment of a library is indispensable. Victoria has a building in every way capable of adjustment to the needs of such a community as could and does profit from its existence, but in equipment and in arrangement or organization of the library features it leaves much to be desired. The immediate and pressing necessity is for more books and the adaptation of several of the interior features of the building and it is for funds to do this imperative work that the by-law is being submitted for the favorable vote of the ratepayers.

For the information of those who are not familiar with the conditions existing at the library at the present time, yet who would cheerfully consider a wise expenditure of a modest sum for their improvement it may be well to point out what is absolutely necessary to redeem the library from a condition far from creditable to the city.

Chiefest among the urgent needs is that of new books. The library lacks lamentably a wide selection of standard fiction in durable bindings and some new titles. In works of non-fiction too the present equipment is almost nondescript. New books on philosophical and religious subjects, and some on the new trend of sociological, economic and educative thought, are badly needed. Science, engineering, fruit and agricultural books, works on architecture and trades are almost entirely lacking. There is nothing on home-making or domestic science, nor in music or the various arts, notwithstanding the fact that the majority of the library patrons are women. A working basis might also be provided with books on travel, biography and history. We are quite sure the library committee is capable of making wise selections along rational lines with a view always to the needs and tastes of the patrons of the shelves.

The proper equipment of a Children's room is among the needs which should receive sympathetic consideration. Such an equipment would develop in children a taste for good literature and round out their school education with reference works and supplementary reading.
The books selected would require to be entirely different from those selected for the adult reader. Children should also be permitted to browse around among their own shelves, making their own selections and developing their own individual tastes. It is impossible to state too strongly the desirability of starting children in the right way in their selection of literature at the age when the reading habits of their lives are being formed.

In addition to the thorough housecleaning which the library building needs, and will receive, its walls might be made much more attractive with a few well-selected pictures and perhaps a few good models in plaster statuary.
Some vases and pots of flowers would also add to the restful atmosphere of the place.

It may thus be seen that the additional $5,000 for which the library board is asking, making a total expenditure of $10,000 for this year, can be well and advantageously laid out. This modest sum should be considered as but the beginning of a thoroughly rational and systematic augmentation of library attractions from year to year. It is well known that really great and useful libraries take a century to equip and it is well that it is so. In this age of rapidly developing thought and progressive science, both political and economical as well as the formation of new literary standards, it is well that not all can be done at once. But the necessity of doing something and doing that something well will be understood by all who understand the value of such a public institution as it is desirable to maintain. With a stimulating and encouraging impetus given to the work this year all those who are interested will take heart with a view to what may be accomplished through years to come and lay wisely the foundation with the materials at hand today.

The Times presents to-day, in another page, an excellent article on the civic uses and advantages of a properly equipped library, which it commends to its readers. This will serve to enlighten as to what is being done, and how,
by other cities as well as the best expression of competent modern thought upon the subject.

There is a feeling of anxious hope among those who have this work at heart in the city that the by-law will be favorably voted and that it shall not perish for lack of appreciation of the important features in civic life which may be developed by authorizing the amount that is asked for.

RECIPROCITY AND FRUIT.

Much capital was endeavored to be made in the early advent of the reciprocity issue, both in the press of the province and on the floor of Parliament, out of the allegation that the agreement would frustrate or paralyze
the fruit industry of this province. Mr.
Martin Burrell, M.P., one of the best informed and most experienced of the fruit growers in British Columbia, an ardent Conservative himself, went only so far as to say that while it would not paralyze the industry it would set it back for many years, and in the meantime would seriously reduce the value of fruit lands.

This argument has now been almost wholly abandoned, as it was found to have no support among the fruit growers as a body, and the various conventions of growers that have been held have made no deliverance either for or against the agreement. Like all other mixed bodies whose members have opposing views on political subjects, the question of reciprocity was not made even controversial. Had there been any fear of ultimate or even temporary injury to their industry we might reasonably have expected their united opposition.

It remained, however, for one of themselves to bear striking testimony of the contrary sort. A British Columbia company interested in fruit lands is issuing thousands of circulars to prospective purchasers containing the following reference to the reciprocity agreement:

"Every indication now points to the ratification of the reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States.
Upon British Columbia apples entering the United States a tax of 25 cents per box is levied under the present tariff.
Upon United States apples coming into Canada a tax of 12½ cents per box is levied. British Columbia fruit growers will therefore have easy access to the United States under reciprocity; and they have the splendid advantages of cheaper land and a more rapidly growing home market which they cannot nearly supply at the present time."

It may be all very simple for those who oppose reciprocity because it is contrary to the creed of the political party to which they belong, but the fruit farmer and the vendor of fruit lands looks at the matter from a much more practical point of view. It must be annoying to the opposition clique in the older provinces who have been calamity shouting on behalf of the poor British Columbia fruit grower and land owner to have such a definite and reasonable refutation of their allegation scattered broadcast throughout the constituencies where they have been pleading on our behalf. One by one the foundation stones of their objective structures have crumbled and they have been forced by sheer fact and circumstance to retreat into narrower confines of opposition.

Perhaps it is no wonder Mr. Borden has decided to leave British Columbia to the care of his lieutenants in the province. With few exceptions the Conservative press has little to say in opposition to the agreement, simply because they have discovered that their prejudiced appeals do not find popular acceptation.

The Halifax Morning Chronicle spells his name "MacBride"—Nothing Irish about Hon. Richard.

The Christian Guardian says "how to distribute taxation so that it will be equitable is a problem which men have long been trying to solve."
Shucks. It's easy. Out here in British Columbia we have done it by the simple matter of appointing a commissioner.

The Montreal Herald asks: "What is the answer, anyway, to Sir John Thompson's desire for an arrangement under which the markets of the United States will be re-opened to the products our people most desire to send there?" If it was all right when Sir John wanted it, why is it all wrong when Mr. Fielding is getting it?"

The Montreal Star finds another new one. Under reciprocity the duties on coal between Canada and United States are equalized. But Canada has a 2,300-lb ton and Uncle Sam sells at the standard weight 2,000 lbs. So Canada may be mulcted out of duty on 300 lbs.
of coal for every ton brought across the line. Monstrous! Is it not?

A Spokane minister has just reached a decision that is worthy of Solomon in all his glory. A family disputed about the name of a baby. One wanted the child called Gwendolyn, another thought Elizabeth preferable, a third suggested Lydia. He baptized the wee mite Margaret Helen, and everybody was satisfied. We once knew of a child whose surname was Wind being baptized Helen Augusta.

The new Victoria memorial was unveiled in London to-day with ceremony and eclat. This splendid memorial was unveiled in the presence of the Kaiser and other connections of the British royal family. It stands in the new processional road leading from Buckingham Palace to Trafalgar Square. It has been in course of erection for several years. The art work is of an exceptionally high order and shows far better taste than is employed in the famous Albert memorial.

The Shareholder and Insurance Gas-ette, Montreal, assuming that the reciprocity agreement will be sustained by both houses in the United States and Canada, says in this connection: "Canadians, therefore, can practically count upon several years of business under a reciprocal tariff and can govern themselves accordingly. This will make for stability in business affairs, as it will enable business men to lay their plans for several years in advance with the certainty that nothing will be done to disturb conditions."

One who got his inspiration thereto from American sources recently ventured the statement that if an election can be brought on in Canada "there will be lots of American money to help beat reciprocity." This, one must admit, looks like going it a bit strong. It was bad enough when, at the outset of the debate, there seemed to be rivulets enough of Canadian money to make quite a stream; it was still worse when wise ones began to say that the back-ers of British Tariff Reform were putting some money into the campaign in Canada against reciprocity; but if some Mark Hanna of the hour is going to tap the tills of the protected industries in the States, thinking that by smashing reciprocity in Canada he can stop the slump from Dingleyism in the States, then indeed we are in for it. Fancy, the high protectionists in Canada, Great Britain and the United States making common cause against the poor little treaty and the government that means to pass it. Well, let 'em all come. The

NE TEMERE DECREE.

Resolution Passed by the British Columbia Methodist Conference—
Social and Moral Reform

Vancouver, May 16.—The Methodist conference this morning passed a strong resolution affirming that passed by the General Conference of the church against the ne temere decree. It was decided that the provincial governments should be approached on the question and the conference further concluded to appoint a delegate to join a denominational deputation to go to Ottawa in protest against the decree.

The report of the social and moral reform department was brought in this morning. It contained a large number of recommendations covering all practical phases of temperance and social work. Among the recommendations was one that the provincial government should allow cities and municipalities to elect their license and police commissioners and also that they should be allowed to vote at municipal elections on reductions in the number of licenses and local option entirely.

FLEMING'S CHARGES.

(Special to the Times).

London, May 16.—The Canadian Associated Press interviewed Max At-ken, M. P., regarding the request of Sir Sanford Fleming for an inquiry into the affairs of the Canada Cement
Co. immediately on his return to London.

Thirteen millions alleged misappropriated, exclaimed Mr. Atken laughingly. "It's a lot of money. I suppose you expected to find some of it knocking around here." He added, seriously: "I have nothing to say. I have ceased treating that gentleman seriously for a long time past."
Mr. Atken added that he was not a director of the Canada Cement Company. The allegation doubtless referred to operations of the Bond and Share Company regarding watered stock.

This aeroplane was successfully tested at Seattle recently. It is the invention of a former Victorian, Alex. Theobald von Hagen, who had a tent and awning business on Bastion Square.

—The Oak Bay avenue local improvement scheme passed two years ago, still incomplete, will cost $11,387 more than was originally estimated. The work called for the widening of the avenue on both sides between Fort Street and Poul Bay road as well as blasting between McGregor Street and Fort Street and construction of macadam pavement, sidewalks, etc. The estimate was $42,384, but $43,102 has been expended to date; $5,350 is required to complete the work and in addition there is bank interest due to the amount of $2,412 on money borrowed from the bank and the discount on the debentures will amount to $2,830, a total of $56,605. The necessary by-law to raise this extra amount will be prepared at once.

We invite the public to inspect our factory to note the clean sanitary method used throughout, noting especially how every bottle is soaked in the sterilizing machine, then brushed with a bristle brush and finally rinsed with pure fresh water.

SUGGESTS PUBLIC MART.

City May Have Auction Sales in Market Building Regularly.

The question of having a public mart in Victoria where producers and consumers could get into direct touch with one another was opened at the meeting of the city council last night when a letter was received from J. List notifying the council of his intention to hold an auction sale of live stock in the market place. In intimating his intention to the council he also took the opportunity of suggesting to them that the market building should be so arranged as to facilitate the holding of auction sales regularly. He expatiated at some length upon the value of such a market in other great cities. He referred to Capetown in particular, where, he stated, the market had proved to be most successful. The scheme met with some favor from the council, and the market superintendent will be asked to report to the council upon the practicability and advisability of such a scheme.

LABORATORY APPARATUS.

City Engineer Will Be Able to Analyze All Concrete Mixtures.

A laboratory apparatus for analyzing the various materials in connection with the concrete paving will be purchased by the city so the engineer will be in a position to check the mixtures. It will be fitted up in a small room on the third floor of the city hall. The application for the same was made to the council last night and the authority to purchase obtained.

—The city council will contribute $100 toward the entertainment fund which is being raised by the local branch of the United Commercial Travellers in connection with the annual convention which takes place in the city shortly.

—The ladies of the Knox Presbyterian church have been granted the privilege of selling light refreshments in the George park on Victoria Day. The funds thus acquired are in aid of the building fund of the church.

—A reward of $500 has been offered for information given to the provincial police that will lead to the arrest and conviction of persons who attempted to dynamite the Dickie building at Vancouver on April 25. Public notice of the reward is given over the signature of Supt. of Provincial Police, F. S. Hussey.

—At a meeting of the members of the Retail Grocers' exchange held last night, it was decided to have the annual picnic on Thursday, July 20, and no effort will be spared to make it the picnic of the year. A meeting to form the various committees will be held at the exchange rooms on Monday next at 8 p. m.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS ARE UNDER REVIEW

Trustee Takes Exception to Inaccurate Statements Made in Council

Last night's meeting of the school board was given up to a discussion and examination of the plans of C. E. Watkins for the new high school. These, as submitted by the architect, will probably be accepted, with a few minor alterations. They call for a four-story reinforced concrete building with basement. A few of the special features will serve to show that it will be a structure of which Victoria may be proud. There will be an auditorium to seat 1,000; a gymnasium and indoor running track; boys' and girls' lunch rooms with kitchen arrangements; separate physical and chemical laboratories, and a spacious library. The high school staff will inspect the drawings to-day, and to-morrow afternoon they will meet the architect with their suggestions. The board will make its final decision before the end of the week.

Exception was taken by Trustee McNeil to a statement made by Ald. Gleason last Friday that although the school expenditure since 1905 had increased from $30,000 to $207,000, there had only been an increase of about 200 in the attendance.

It is obvious that there is an actual error in such an assertion, even if the expenditure had increased as stated. This, however, is also wrong, the estimates for this year amounting to $166,325, as the following figures show: Salaries, $125,000; janitors' salaries, $3,000; fuel, $4,000; board expenses, $2,000; furniture, $1,675; supplies, $5,000; repairs and alterations, $15,150; insurance, $1,000; miscellaneous, $2,900.

As regards the attendance, the board has figures to show that the government reports of last year are wrong on that point. There has been, as a matter of fact, an increase of 25 per cent.

SCORE BIG SUCCESS.

MacDonald Concert Party Gives Splendid Entertainment.

Before a fair-sized crowd the Ruthven MacDonald concert party made its initial appearance in this city last night in the Metropolitan Methodist church, and have left behind an impression upon the minds of those attending that will remain for some time. It is an assured fact that if the party appears here again it will be greeted by a far larger audience than was present last evening.

The performance was of the most perfect quality and, needless to say, every number on the well-selected programme was loudly enjoyed. By request Mr. MacDonald sang a selection which has gained for him fame throughout the British Isles, Canada and the United States. It was "Bibby Bob," and it was an impossibility for the audience to refrain from laughter while he went through the song.

Mr. MacDonald came here reputed to be Canada's greatest baritone, and he lived up to his reputation. He is an artist and a great interpreter. He knows how to articulate as well as vocalize. The songs he rendered showed to great advantage the power and strength of his voice.

Miss Bertha May Crawford, the soprano soloist with the company, in making her debut here, placed herself well with Victorians. Her pure, lyric soprano voice of unusual range has gained her the name of the finest singer of her type on the continent, and she deserves all the praise that has been tendered her.

Miss Iron, as reader, entertained her audience in a remarkable manner, and her selections, although of the most difficult nature, were given with the ease and perfection of one well-trained in the art of elocution. Miss Ruthven MacDonald was the accompanist.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Metropolitan Methodist church, and the members of it are to be congratulated on introducing such splendid vocalists as Mr. MacDonald and Miss Crawford to Victorians.

TIGERS HIT SAFELY AT CRITICAL TIME

Brown Pitches Good Ball but Does Not Tighten Up in Pinches

Ten Million was the solitary Islander to bank the ball for a base yesterday, and he did it twice. Annie, the Bengal twirler, was pitching beautifully, and had even the mighty Householder completely baffled. It must be mentioned, though, that Victoria's pet slugger had had hard luck for one of his slams looked good for four sacks when it started, but Lynch, playing in deep centre, made a run of at least fifty yards, and reaching out one pudgy hand hooked in the sphere. It was one of the most sensational plays seen in Tacoma this season. Brown did not perform badly on the slab, but he forgot to put the brakes on when men were on the paths, allowing hits just in the most dangerous of times. Thomas is slated to pitch this afternoon. The score:

WILD THROW LOSES GAME.
Vancouver took the first game of this week's series with Seattle, as a result of a hit and a wild throw. Adams grounded the ball to the left field fence and Raymond, taking the throw from Harrison, threw over Bue's head in an effort to peg the runner at third. Cates outpitched Zackert.

CRICKET

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Victoria Cricket Club in Alexis Martin's offices, Pemberton building, H. Cuthbert, M. Cane, F. J. Marshall, J. W. D. York, L. S. V. York, A. Martin and C. Coates transacted heavy business.

The demand on the secretary's time has grown to such an extent it was deemed expedient to appoint an assistant. Maurice Cane, of the Union Club, was elected to the office.

F. J. Marshall was empowered to act as captain and to select his team for Wednesday's game.

Team "A" for Saturday's game on Jubilee hospital grounds are: L. S. V. York (captain), A. Martin, J. W. D. York, G. L. Wright, J. H. Gillespie, M. Cane, T. B. Tye, R. Stuart, P. H. Pooley, F. Gallier, R. J. Horton.

The batsmen who passed the half century were M. Cane, 56; Lieut. Morell, 66; W. F. L. Pilkington, 61; Capt. Foulkes, 51; A. Martin, 75, not out and E. W. Lemay 53 not out.

In the bowling department R. N. Hines, 3 wickets for ten runs; Stevens, 5 for 25; Askey, 6 for 33; Stevens, 4 for 20; Coppinger, 7 for 29; W. Gifford, 3 for 1; D. C. Mahon, 6 for 16 and L. B. Trimman, 4 for 16, are worthy of mention.

Some of the old argumentative points arose, the principal one being the old story of "incompetent" umpires. Everyone knows what a thankless task umpiring is and how grateful one feels for proffered services, therefore this point is always touched upon gingerly. This is not the proper attitude. If a gentleman is kind enough to offer his services he surely must know whether he is competent or not. All the score books have extracts from the rules, and no man who is decidedly biased should be allowed to stand. This year for tournament week the umpires will be selected by the committee, showing how important a matter it is considered.

From now on each club should make an effort to select an umpire for the game with the same care they use in selecting a team.

There are about 270 tons of metal in a mile of average railroad.

SPORT NOTES

A special meeting of the Vancouver Island Football League has been called for to-night at the Y. M. C. A. to discuss last Saturday's football match between the Wards and the Wests. It is alleged that the former purposely threw the game to the latter in order that Victoria West might have a chance with the Foresters for the Morley cup.

A lacrosse practice is being held this evening at the Royal Athletic park, in which the team most likely to represent Victoria will line up against another twelve. The selection committee has experienced no difficulty in filling nine of the positions on the representative team, but the other three seem to be causing trouble. There are six men whose playing is so nearly on a par that it is difficult to choose between them. The practice starts at 6.30.

To-morrow evening at the Victoria Sporting Goods store the regular weekly meeting of the Victoria Lacrosse Association will be held and a schedule for the junior teams drawn up.

The following team was selected last night to meet the Albion C. C. next Saturday at the Jubilee hospital grounds: L. S. V. York (captain), Alexis Martin, M. Cane, J. W. D. York, G. L. Wright, J. H. Gillespie, T. B. Tye, R. Stuart, R. G. Horton. A match has been arranged to take place on Wednesday afternoon at the Jubilee hospital grounds between the Victoria B team and the University school.

If all reports are to be believed, the Nanaimo United football eleven has undoubtedly won the B. C. championship. By defeating the Calles on Saturday they made it impossible for any of the other teams, with the exception of Ladysmith, to catch them in the race for the honors. Now Ladysmith has announced its intention of dropping out of the league, and the only bar in the way of the senior Nanaimo footballers being called champions is removed.

When Jim Flynn, Pueblo fireman, put that right swing on Al Kaufman's jaw and sent the California to the canvas for the fatal ten count at Kansas City last week, the last hope of the boxing fraternity for a white champion went flickering into nothingness. Kaufman was considered the man closest to Jack Johnson, world's champion, in fighting ability. He was considered even more formidable than Sam Langford, but this sudden and surprising defeat at the hands of the Colorado fireman relegates him backward so far that it would be surprising if he will ever get a chance to fight against the present titleholder.

At the meeting of the J. E. A. A. members held last evening the following committee was appointed to arrange the part the Bays will take in the Coronation Day celebration: A. Jeffs, H. Young, W. H. Davies, A. Poole, J. Somers, W. B. Shaw, C. Brown and P. McCarter. A presentation was made to Wallace Jones and Jack Pinlayson, who are leaving town for the upper country. A very enjoyable time was spent by those who attended the club smoker last night.

Leo Sweeney this morning received a telegram from Manager Wattelot, of the Victoria baseball club, granting permission to the Victoria lacrosse team to play their opening provincial game with Vancouver at the Royal Athletic park on Wednesday morning, May 24. The game will commence at 10.30.

The release of Pitcher Harry Ables to the Oakland California club of the Pacific Coast League, by the New York American League club was officially announced last night.

After remaining in session at the Seattle hotel yesterday from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 8 o'clock in the evening, the directors and president of the Northwestern League broke up their meeting divulging only the information that the player limit had been raised to sixteen men instead of 15; that the directors would back up President Lindsay's stand in the Lynch case, and that the question of incompetent umpires would be left to the league president. It was believed that the Lynch case was closed with the re-instatement of the Tacoma manager, but President Lindsay says that his decision was only temporary and that final action would be taken in a few days. The following were present: R. H. Lindsay, league president; Robert Brown of the Vancouver club; Joseph P. Cohn of the Spokane club; L. A. Wattelot of Victoria; D. E. Dugdale of Seattle and W. W. McCredie of Portland.

The Northwestern League baseball season of 1911 is not starting out particularly auspicious for pitching records. Statistics compiled to include the games played last Thursday afternoon show a general batting average of .232 as against .219 last year. The league starts off with more 300 hitters than ever before in its recent history, and three or four of the big sluggers keep pegging away around the 400 mark, with no sign of the expected break.

Netzel keeps up his terrific pace. Looking over his record, the Spokane's third baseman's batting has been wonderfully consistent. In his first 22 games Netzel got at least one hit in 19 of the 22 games. In eight of them he got as many as three. He leads the league also in run-getting and in stolen bases, having twice as many swiped sacks as any other rival. He has 14.

Looking at team records, it is not hard to understand Spokane's long lead. It is hard, however, to figure Victoria tallenders. If the Islanders pitching staff had been in even fair condition all year, it is a cliché Victoria would be higher up in the pennant race. The Victorians are second in team batting, third in extra base hitting, but inferior in bunting and base running to other teams.

The teams' records up to last Thursday were:

Team	A.B.	R.	H.	Ave.
Spokane	639	132	201	.290
Victoria	687	75	163	.237
Vancouver	671	60	141	.211
Seattle	600	101	138	.230
Portland	671	91	151	.225
Tacoma	679	21	121	.178

Portland's Northwest League team will get Pitcher Eastley of San Francisco Seals, instead of Browning, upon whom waivers had been asked and granted by Coast League clubs. Developments of the past few days: Browning's apparent "comeback" and Eastley's rather sensational clash with other members of the Seals brought about the switch, notification being conveyed to Portland Sunday night. The release of Pitcher Berger and a blue envelope to catcher Snooks on Saturday leaves room on the Portland team for two good battery men.

SPRING DAYS WITH THE HORSES

A fine morning and a good track brought out the speedy ones at the Willows Sunday.

The work of the two-year-olds was considered high class indeed, it being the first time many of them had been let down.

Fully a thousand race enthusiasts wandered around the grounds, viewing the many beautiful thoroughbreds now stabled there.

A fine string of gallopers arrived yesterday from Ontario, Oregon, and are ready to do anything asked of them.

Mr. Lewis's horses arrived from Vancouver on last night's boat, he shipping five of his best to this meeting.

Mr. Robert Leighton, racing secretary, has arrived, and was besieged yesterday by numerous queries in reference to the Parti Mutuel machines, which he explained in a very explicit manner.

Keep next week's dates open and be on hand with the crowds every afternoon at 2:30, at which time the barrier is sprung on the opening race of the day.

LEAVES CLYDE FOR VICTORIA SATURDAY

Prince John, New G. T. P. S. S. Co. Steamer Arriving Here Late in July

Cablegrams received here from Glasgow, Scotland, state that the New Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince John left the Clyde on Saturday for this port. It is expected that the vessel will arrive here about the end of July, as Capt. Davis, her master, said before he left here to take charge of the steamer that he would bring her around the Horn within seventy-five days.

When the John reaches here she will be overhauled immediately and placed on the Prince Rupert, Stewart and Queen Charlotte Island's run, replacing the Prince Albert, which is to be used on the Victoria-Vancouver and Prince Rupert run, relieving the Henriette. The freight business between southern and northern British Columbia ports is rapidly increasing, and the two big Prince steamers are unable to handle it together with the passenger travel and comply with the fast schedules that have been outlined for them. The Prince Albert which is a splendid cargo boat as well as an excellent passenger steamer, is the right vessel for the northern British Columbia ports' run and she is being replaced by a good boat in the Prince John.

The John is comparatively a new boat, having been built in 1910 by Scott & Sons, Bowling, Eng. for W. Robertson. She is 135 feet in length, with a 29.6 foot beam, and a depth of 10.9 feet. Her gross tonnage is 662 tons, and her registered tonnage 446 tons. She is propelled by a single screw with triple expansion engines, developing 136 N. H. P. Her cylinders are 17.28 and 45 inches with a 33 inch stroke capable of driving the vessel at a fourteen knot clip. She is built throughout of steel and is equipped with electric lights.

While lying at the Clyde shipyard, being placed in condition for the long voyage, the John has been equipped with wireless telegraphy.

The British ship Port Stanley, which stranded off Ballyhelguy, on the Irish coast, between Kerry Head and Tralee, while bound from Portland, Ore., with a cargo of wheat for Limerick, is a vessel of 2,276 tons register, built in 1880, and owned by Crawford & Rowat, Glasgow. Her stranding results that of the same firm's ship Port Yarrow, in January, 1894, which after a protracted passage from Santa Rosalia, put into Brandon Bay. The captain came ashore, telegraphed for a tug, and returned to the ship, but before the tug arrived the vessel was driven ashore, and all on board perished.

Capt. F. S. Moore, master of the steamship Admiral Sampson, and one of the best known mariners on the Pacific Coast, died of cancer Saturday at his home in Seattle, aged 50 years. He commanded the steamship Kentucky when she foundered off Cape Hatteras 15 months ago, and was master of the famous gold ship Portland when she was wrecked off Katalla, Alaska, last November.

INSPECT CHINESE AT TERMINAL CITY

SEATTLE SHIPPING MEN PROTESTING VIGOROUSLY

United States Government to Prevent Orientals Crossing Line in Interior

Seattle, Wash., May 16.—Officials of steamship lines operating between Seattle and the Orient have been notified that on July 1 the examination of Chinese for admission to the United States will be made at the port of Vancouver, B. C. The new order came as a surprise to Seattle steamship and railroad officials, and representatives of American lines affected are planning to make a vigorous protest to the department at Washington.

They assert that the admitting of Chinese at Vancouver will give the Canadian Pacific steamship and railroad lines an important advantage over the American lines in that it will be able to obtain a much larger percentage of the east-bound Chinese travel from the Orient.

In the past all of the Chinese have been brought to Seattle to be examined, and consequently if they want over the C. P. R. they were compelled to go to Vancouver and take train. There are a large number of Chinese merchants and business men who go to China and return each year, and the east-bound travel is estimated at from 500 to 1,000 each year.

In the past Seattle has been the port of entry in the northwest, all examinations being conducted here. Although large numbers of Chinese have gone east from Vancouver in the past, they have been compelled to come to Seattle first if they were entering this country. On July 1 when the new arrangement goes into effect the United States immigration bureau will open an office in Vancouver, and it is thought probably that the officers who will have charge will be sent from Seattle.

Ellis De Bruer, commissioner of United States immigration service in Seattle, admitted that the order provided for examination of Chinese at Vancouver as well as at Seattle had been received, and that it would become effective July 1. The purpose of the order is to prevent Chinese from being brought across the Canadian line in interior, where it is difficult for the immigration department to keep close watch. The department wishes to simplify the question by examining all as they land at Vancouver.

The new arrangement only affects steamship lines operating between the Orient and Vancouver, B. C., and companies not touching that port will continue to bring their Chinese passengers to Seattle for examination and admission.

Early this morning the C. P. R. steamer Joan left port for Comox and Nanaimo with considerable freight and many passengers.

'FRISCO STEAMSHIPS SHOULD TAKE PILOTS

Members of Golden Gate Pilotage Declare Victoria a Foreign Port

San Francisco, Cal., May 16.—The question of declaring Victoria a foreign port of call for coastwise steamers was referred to-day to the United States Supreme court by the federal circuit court of appeals for the ninth district.

The question arises out of suits brought by pilots M. Anderson and M. Jordan of this port, against the steamers Queen and Umatilla, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

These vessels call at Victoria and for that purpose they are of foreign register but the captains, who hold domestic pilot licenses, have refused to take on pilots at this port as is required of vessels registered as foreign, claiming that as 5 per cent. of their cargo is destined for domestic ports, they cannot be called registered vessels.

A formal list of questions which have been at issue for several years was submitted to the higher tribunal by Judges Gilbert Morrow and Wolverton.

TWO MEXICAN PORTS CLOSED TO VESSELS

Orders Issued by Rebels Forbid Steamships Calling at Mazatlan and Guaymas

Owing to the widespread area embraced in the revolutionary movement in Mexico, trade between Canada and that republic is being interrupted. The vessels operated by the Canadian-Mexican Steamship Company are now unable to call at several ports as a result of the orders which the insurgents have issued. Whether the trouble will result in the temporary abandonment of the service is not known, but if the rebels seize many more of the sea coast towns and place them under a ban, it will not be profitable for the company to continue operating its boats.

Latest reports received by the steamship companies are to the effect that the revolutionists have captured Mazatlan, on the west coast, as well as Guaymas, where they have enforced a strict blockade. As a result of this situation, instructions have been sent to Captain Bates, of the steamship Lonsdale, now in the south loading cargo for her northbound trip, not to call at those ports on her voyage. The Lonsdale is now at Salina Cruz, the western terminus of the Tehuantepec railway, where the rebels have not yet created any diversion.

At Guaymas and Mazatlan the steamships of the line generally pick up some freight, and the omitting of these ports will mean a loss to the company. The Henley, which is now taking on cargo for the south, will not be able to touch there, and the amount of freight going south will be somewhat reduced. It is expected that the Henley will sail for Salina Cruz within a few days. She is carrying considerable coal and lumber besides much general merchandise.

TEES RETURNS FROM WEST COAST POINTS

Sails Again To-night—Beatrice Leaving for Northern Ports—Queen City in Bringing eighty-seven passengers and about 100 tons of general freight, the C. P. R. steamer Tees, Capt. Gillam, returned to this port last night from Holberg, and way ports. The officers of the vessel report that the trip was uneventful and that splendid weather is now prevalent on the west coast. Amongst the cargo brought to this city by the Tees was 30 tons of fire clay from Kyuquot. This afternoon the steamer moved to the outer docks to take on 300 barrels for the whaling station at Sechart. She is scheduled to sail from here to-night for Clayoquot and way points. H. C. Brewster, M. P. P., returned from Clayoquot on the Tees this trip, having been there inspecting his cannery.

Another C. P. R. coasting steamer returned to Victoria last night, the Queen City arriving from Rivers Inlet. She met with a little dirty weather during the trip, but otherwise her trip was marked by nothing startling. She brought south many passengers and considerable freight. The steamer sailed again at noon to-day with a full list of passengers bound for various ports on her run.

To-night the steamer Princess Beatrice, Capt. Whiteley, will leave for northern British Columbia and Queen Charlotte Island ports. She is relieving the Amur, which is due here very shortly and which will be given an extensive overhauling. It is understood that the Amur will have a new boiler installed in her, and her engines thoroughly cleaned and repaired.

BY MRS. A. T. ASHMORE.

VENING gowns for the spring and summer must now be seriously considered, for while street gowns seem most important to begin with, a woman does not care to go on wearing indefinitely the evening gowns that have done duty all winter, and plans at once for the necessary number to carry her along until the real summer season begins.

This is a time of year when there is no formal entertaining of note in the city, but when country home life is at its height. For the theatres, for dining at restaurants and for the dinners and bridge entertainments full dress is demanded consequently, and this is the time when fresh new gowns are seen to the best advantage. Satin gowns are extremely smart, sometimes made with tunic or overskirt of lace or embroidered net or tulle, sometimes almost severely plain with classic lines of drapery. All satin now fashionable is soft and clinging and woven with a wondrous sheen that changes in different lights to different effects, and is as suitable for a summer evening gown as for winter. White is most popular this season, and the all white satin gown trimmed with lace is most becoming and attractive. A changeable effect, cream white with a shading of pale pink, gray with a mauve, yellow and orange all are enchantingly illusive and make up especially well in the present styles.

An all white satin with tunic of white lace is one of the popular models which sound rather dull when described, but in reality it is smart and most becoming. The satin skirt is made so as to appear scant, but is wide enough to be graceful. The lace tunic or overskirt falls in straight lines, but is draped on the front of the waist. The skirt is long and finished with the square train. This square train and the one cut like a fish tail and so named are new styles of the spring, much more graceful than the train skirts of the winter.

Crepe de Chine, both with satin finish and plain, is also a fashionable fabric and is very smart for evening gowns. The popular classic draperies are most easily attained in this material, and the colors are exquisite. Soft grays are most attractive, while all the pastel shades are in demand, then blue, green pink and cerise. One model that has been copied in many colors is on the Grecian order and the draping is most graceful and effective and made both in liberty satin and crepe de Chine. The trimmings in the Grecian border, worked in gold on the material, and a cord with tasselled ends forms the belt. It is not a fashion to be chosen without due consideration, for a stout figure would look has been to a juvenile style of dressing for all ages, and brocade is not a juvenile material. It is much better suited to formal dress, state affairs, etc., and is always too expensive to be generally worn. A most charming model is a pink flowered brocade made up with pink satin and with heavy passementerie ornaments down the front—a "picture dress" distinct and original, but then brocade is a material of all others best suited to the picture gown. Pink and gold, blue and white, silver and gold with white—all are brocades that are fashionable and most effective—and expensive. The brocade crepe de Chine is a new material that is charming for the evening and can be had in various colors. It is all one color and is on the same style as the figured crepe de Chine, only far more handsome.

Jupe Culotte Effects.

The influence of the jupe-culotte is far reaching and is constantly to be noticed in every style of gown. The fashion of the skirt slashed from the hem upward for half a yard in length was undoubtedly designed to show the trouser effect. In some of the heavier materials—a serge, for instance—the slashing displays a satin underskirt caught up to give the effect of its being made in two pieces. When an evening skirt is so slashed, filary lace or chiffon flounces are displayed, but in the original model the slashed skirt displays the foot and ankle. It is not attractive, for it is crude and suggestive, and the lace or chiffon is indispensable. With the exaggeratedly scant skirt, the seam opened at the side, slashed to show a dainty underskirt, the fashion had much to recommend it, and this clever dressmaker has realized and taken advantage of. But to emphasize a vulgar idea seems a great mistake and has met with small favor from women who are rightly considered smartly turned out.

Point de Venise is one of the most fashionable laces this spring, and although the cost of the real lace makes it virtually prohibitive to use any large quantity, there are excellent imitations that, combined with satin, crepe de Chine or chiffon, are most effective. Among all the eccentricities of dress that prevail at present there are to be found a few that are really artistic and as most charming in their quiet elegance. Such is a model of crepe de Chine, satin and Venetian lace. The long satin skirt is more than half covered with a pleated or gathered tunic of crepe de Chine finished with a wide band of the lace and embroidery. This tunic falls in straight lines from the bust, but there is a wide band of the lace and embroidery which forms the upper part of the skirt. A cord and tassels, instead of belt or girde, is knotted low down on the skirt. The tassels are heavily fringed. The waist is not very décolleté and the close fitting cap sleeves of lace cover the upper arm. This gown is suitable for theatre, restaurant or small dinner and is a good model in any color. In black and with cream lace it is strikingly effective.

Gray Evening Gowns.

The present style of evening gown is not exaggerated. The more generally becoming cut of the V or square shape neck, preferably the former, is seen both on theatre and more elaborate dinner gowns. The soft veiling of chiffon or tulle can transform the low round cut waist into the present lines with little difficulty and is very generally adopted. Gray evening gowns are smart this season, and the shades are those that look best under artificial light. The dark stone gray is to be avoided, as has often been said, for it is rarely becoming. This winter it has been combined with cerise in the veiling style, gray embroidered in silver over cerise satin being a favorite combination. A good effect can be obtained by putting gray over white, and the silver embroidered gray tulle or net tunics over oyster white satin is one of the most effective color combinations known. Oddly enough, white over gray is never attractive unless there is some black introduced into the embroidery, with silver or steel beads on the white giving a more definite note.

White lace gowns are to be most fashionable this season, and there are so many different kinds of lace in style that there is no danger of them all being alike. Superb gowns of Irish lace are not to be attained excepting by a favored few, and there are other lace gowns equally costly, but never were there so many effective imitation laces, all well adapted to the present fashions. The old time favorite Valenciennes is fashionable and is used in combination with other laces as well as with fine embroidery, the lingerie and lace evening gown being one of the smartest of all.

Practical Points On Summer Frocks.

LINGERIE and linen frocks are essential to comfort in summer, and this is the time of year when the prudent and clever woman is busiest, for she knows that to achieve the results she desires there must be time, thought and money expended. The latter, however, can easily be regulated according to the allowance for dress. There is nothing more effective than the gown of English eyellet embroidery so fashionable at present, and which now is made up with touches of black velvet. This in hand work is almost as expensive, but the imitation or machine embroidery, if not too coarse, is excellent. It is not necessary to have the entire frock of the embroidery; there can be bands and flounces of it, and with only a small amount a good effect can be obtained. Then there are pattern robes, which are often quite satisfactory and which cost marvelously little in comparison with their appearance.

The muslin or lingerie frock of to-day is for once as simple as it appears. Every woman, and many men, realize that often the simplest looking frock is extremely expensive.

For its beauty and charm could never be attained without the finest of materials and trimmings and the talent of a most expensive dressmaker. This season many of the most attractive models can be copied by a seamstress provided a good pattern is obtained and no exaggerations of style permitted. The waist and sleeve cut in one piece requires care in cutting and fitting, but is far easier to manage than the separate sleeve, and once a good fitting pattern is secured the rest of the task is comparatively easy. There must be a good lining for corset cover and corset brassiere must be most carefully selected so that the bust is not pushed out of place.

For trimming the latter very scant, bands and flounces, braiding and lace entreeux provide opportunities for little or much being used. Boutache braiding is fashionable and is often combined with bands of flit or Cluny or Valenciennes entreeux. Then with fine hand embroidery these same laces, substituting Irish for Valenciennes if the material of the gown is heavier, is always smart. There is a curious combining of two or three kinds of lace and embroidery, effective and most popular, but this means cost, for it never looks well to combine anything but handsome materials. There are so many charming materials this season for lingerie gowns, and voile de soie is included in this list, that it is not an arduous task to select an effective design.

There are striped muslins, extremely reasonable in price, that make up well and require no trimming save the embroidered collar and frill down the front. There are many different qualities and weights of linen, and there are the mercerized materials that look so much more expensive than they are. Cheap materials are not good investments when the frock has to be made by an expensive dressmaker, who can charge for her experience and taste, but the woman who can make a frock or supervise a seamstress can this season be smartly gowned for far less than she has been expending for many seasons.

BILL OF EXPENSE MAY MEAN TROUBLE

C. H. TOPP SENDS IN AN ACCOUNT FOR $3,100

Will He Be Paid the Whole
Amount or Have It Cut Down?

A bill over which it is possible that some interesting discussion will arise was tendered to the city council at its session last night. The bill in question is that of C. H. Topp, for the work of making the necessary surveys at Sooke Lake in connection with locating a suitable source and channel for bringing a sufficient supply of water into the city. The bill totals $3,100, and covers not only the charges of the engineer but the cost of the staff of men who were employed on the work.

It will of course be recalled that Mr. Topp's appointment was vetoed by Mayor Morley, and that a special committee had to be appointed to discover if the work on the survey had been commenced ere the veto had been communicated to him. That committee gave the benefit of the doubt to Mr. Topp.

About a week ago Mr. Topp submitted the plans of the work he had accomplished and they were referred to the city engineer and the water commissioner. No action has yet been taken in regard to the plans, as no report has yet been forthcoming, and it is now a question of whether or not the city will hold itself liable for the whole amount of the account rendered. It resolves itself into a question of whether, after receiving the veto, Mr. Topp should have proceeded with the work or whether he should have quit on the spot and tendered his account for the work done up to that time.

In the meantime the plans of Mr. Topp may be considered for what they may be worth. In his opinion the proper route for a tunnel is from the north end of the lake, easterly to a valley in the direction of the Spanish Arm, whence the pipe line would be brought into the city. This route would require two tunnels, the total length of which would be considerably less than the tunnel route first contemplated, leading from the lower end of the lake and running beneath the holding of the Esquimalt Water Works company.

The promoters of the proposed swimming baths at the northwest corner of Dallas road and Douglas street applied to the council for one or two minor privileges in connection with the carrying out of the scheme. As reported in the Times the other day the proposal calls for a most substantial building fitted with all the most modern appliances. The petitioners requested that the city should lay the necessary pipe line for the transmission of salt water, and alternatively, that the council should allow the promoters permission to lay their own pipe line for the supply of water; that the baths be allowed to connect with the city sewer to carry off the waste; or that the right be given the promoters to run an outlet pipe for that purpose themselves. The other two privileges asked were a reduced water rate and the right to place notices at the car terminus on Niagara street calling attention to the situation of the baths.

Alderman Langley supported the scheme wholeheartedly. In granting the privileges asked for he did not consider that the city would be doing anything too much. Such enterprises ought in his opinion to be encouraged by the corporation. After all, they were doing something for the city and in return for that favor they were asking very little.

Alderman Peden was appointed along with Alderman Langley to consider the merits of the entire scheme and draw up a report for the benefit of the council.

Not a little amusement was afforded the aldermen when the business veered round to the opening of the tenders for the privilege of holding booths for the sale of soft drinks and candies in the public parks. Owing to some misapprehension the tenderers—and there were only three of them—tendered for the Beacon Hill park only. The sums mentioned were $200 for the season, $300 for the season and $50 per month for four months. Of course it was the highest and not the lowest tender that received the most consideration. The city was selling privileges and naturally wanted to sell them to the greatest advantage. The $300 bid of A. Bancroft was picked out as the most promising of the bunch, but after considering the matter more fully it was felt that the city might do even better by erecting its own booth and letting it to the highest bidder.

Mayor Morley was responsible for this movement in high finance, and after some slight demur above having already called for tenders it was adopted, and the council agreed to approach Mr. Bancroft with a view to getting him to increase his bid to $600. A committee was appointed to carry out the suggestion.

No sooner was this matter disposed of than Ald. Langley jumped on the toes of the chairman of the parks committee, Ald. Humber, by mentioning his opinion that the dressing room at Beacon Hill was in a disgraceful condition.

Ald. Humber immediately took the floor and with fine humor turned a stroke of repartee that set the council in a roar. He pointed out to the alderman, who is one of the representatives of the ward which embraces Beacon Hill park, that the dressing room at North Ward park is always well kept, but they could not expect the same moderate behavior from "the aristocratic kids of Ward five." He admitted that the dressing room in question was a disgrace a week ago, but if it was so still then he moved that the official whom he had instructed to look after it be fired.

This drastic suggestion was not acted upon, however.

The application of W. Pretty for permission to erect a wharf on lot 1286 on Kingston street has been approved by the Inner Harbor Association, to whom it was referred by the city. In writing the city in connection with the matter the secretary of the association outlined a plan in regard to the general improvement of the wharves, and requested that in the event of the council being favorable to the scheme steps should be taken to secure its adoption by the minister of marine and fisheries. After some consultation a committee of three was appointed to meet the Inner Harbor Association with a view to drawing up some plan for the preservation of the wharf frontage on that side of the harbor.

That the city had no jurisdiction to regulate the width of lots was brought out clearly last night when a plan of subdivision of the Speer property was submitted for the approval of the council.

Ald. Gleason declined to initial the plan, as the lots were only thirty-three feet wide.

It was the only objection to the plan it should be passed. He claimed that the city had no power to regulate the width of lots. They could be made into ten-foot lots for all they might be concerned.

Mayor Morley upheld this view and the plan was passed.

Fire Chief Davis again drew the attention of the council to the need of greater fire protection in the exhibition grounds. In a report last night he pointed out that there ought to be at least six hydrants where there was only one. He recommended that at least six hydrants be installed and that the water connection be increased.

The matter was referred to the city engineer and the water commissioner to report upon the cost.

C. P. R. SURVEYORS

R. Marpole Tells of Work Which Will Be Undertaken
in the North

Vancouver, May 15.—R. Marpole, executive agent of the C. P. R., who has returned from a trip to Montreal, during which he interviewed Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, confirmed the information recently given out by Mr. Whyte, the vice-president of the road, in this city and Victoria, and stated that authority had been given for the immediate construction of the Cowichan Lake branch and the branch between Westholme and Osborne Bay. At the latter point, the Empire Lumber company, of New York, has secured a fine mill site, and from what their directors have said, it is their intention to erect a large first-class modern sawmill. The company controls more than 50,000 acres of excellent timber lands tributary to Cowichan Lake. Mr. Marpole said:

"It is our intention to place survey parties in the field immediately on Vancouver Island, north of Comox and north of Campbell river, to finally revise the location of the line of extension as far as practicable at this date. In explanation of this statement, a syndicate of Pittsburgh capitalists, with ex-Governor Ray Jones, of Minnesota, now a resident of Seattle, at its head, acquired by lease from the Esquimalt and Nanaimo railway the right to explore for iron ore over some thousands of acres of shoreline land at and near Quinsam Lake, Comox district, and the results of these explorations and examinations have been highly satisfactory. Well known experts from Pittsburgh are well satisfied as to the question of bulk and assay. There is no question as to the quantity of the ore or as to the richness of the surface exposures; they have found large bodies of similar ore in other parts of their leased lands. If no metals injurious to iron smelting are found, there cannot be any doubt as to the future prosperity of the Comox district, aside from its other potential sources of wealth, coal, timber and agricultural lands.

"The exact final location of our railway line north of Black creek, between Courtenay and Campbell river, will depend a good deal on the reports and assurances we get from the leasing syndicate, as, of course, it will be an important feature with us to provide the best of transportation facilities.

"We have already explored part of the island beyond Campbell river, but Mr. Cambie will now arrange for a strong survey party to start and thoroughly explore that country this summer.

"The president has decided to have the second addition to the Empress hotel, Victoria, proceeded with as early as practicable, and the completion of this addition will afford the much required room accommodation. "The northwest wheat lands, from what we saw and heard from well posted and responsible people, are in excellent shape, consequent on the recent rains general over the whole of that magnificent country. Bumper crops are looked for and everyone is naturally elated."

IS COMBINATION IN RESTRAINT OF TRADE

Standard Oil of New Jersey and Subsidiary Corporations
to Be Dissolved

Washington, D. C., May 15.—The Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its nineteen subsidiary corporations were declared yesterday by the supreme court of the United States to be a conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade. It was otherwise held to be monopolizing interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The dissolution of the combination was ordered to take place within six months.

Thus ended the tremendous struggle on the part of the government to put down, by authority of law, a combination which it is claimed was a menace to the industrial and economic advancement of the entire country. At the same time the court interpreted the Sherman anti-trust law so as to limit its application to acts of "undue" restraint of trade and not "every" restraint of trade.

It was on this point that the only discordant note was heard in the court. Justice Harlan dissented, claiming that cases already decided by the court had determined—once for all—that the words "undue" or "unreasonable" or similar words, were not in the statute. He declared that the reasoning of the court in arriving at its finding was, in effect, legislation, which belonged in every instance to congress and not to the courts.

Ever since the decree in this case in the lower court, the United States circuit court, eastern district of Missouri, was announced, hope has been expressed by the "business world" that the law would be modified so as not to interfere with what was designated as "honest business." Last night that section of the opinion calling for the use of the rule of reason in applying the law is regarded in many quarters as an answer to the prayers of the "business world."

The Prince Rupert-Nanaimo Collieries, Ltd. Will Supply

A LIMITED NUMBER OF SHARES TO BE SOLD AT 25 CENTS PER SHARE

If we could estimate the total amount of coal consumed at Prince Rupert during the next ten years and place this order with the Prince Rupert-Nanaimo Collieries Limited, whose property is situated just across Hecate Strait from the Grand Trunk Pacific terminus, (using the coal supply of a city with 100,000 population as a basis of calculation) the annual profits to the coal mine at present market prices would be in the neighborhood of one million dollars.

In speaking of the coal supply, we include in addition to the city, the coal consumption of the lines of railway out of the city of Prince Rupert, the towns along the said lines of railway for a considerable distance north, south, and east as well as the numerous steamships which will sail to this port, the bunkers of which will require to be filled. All of this coal must necessarily come from the nearest point which is Graham Island, about 60 miles distant from Prince Rupert and the mainland.

The Prince Rupert-Nanaimo Collieries Limited controls 22 square miles of coal land on Graham Island. The property of the company is an immense unbroken plateau undisturbed by the volcanic eruptions which have occurred on other parts of the island and which in the opinion of mining engineers have destroyed the commercial value of the coal deposits at those particular points. Mining engineers and others competent to judge have pronounced the property controlled by The Prince Rupert-Nanaimo Collieries Limited the equal of any coal land in the Province of British Columbia.

To those who invest now this is a ground floor proposition. The first block of 100,000 shares is to be sold at 25 cents per share in blocks of not less than 100 shares, on terms of 10 cents per share down and the remainder in three equal monthly payments without interest. These shares are non-assessable.

If you are contemplating making an investment in coal shares it will pay you to investigate the proposition offered by the Prince Rupert-Nanaimo Collieries, Limited.

The Prince Rupert-Nanaimo Collieries Limited has been organized for the purpose of developing the 14,000 acres of coal land which it has acquired on Graham Island. The men behind the company are well known British Columbia business men. The President of the company is Edward Quennell, of Nanaimo, B. C. Mr. Quennell has been a resident of this province since 1864 and can, we think, be regarded as an old timer and those of you who are acquainted with him well know that he would not become associated with a concern which was not well founded. Other Directors of the Company are Dr. G. B. Brown, Nanaimo; E. W. J. Harding, Nanaimo; E. T. Kingsley, W. R. Frampton and M. S. Oulton, Vancouver, and Wm. Hargraves, Jr., of Kamloops, B. C.

The Trustee of the Company, Mr. F. R. Laing, is well and favorably known in Vancouver as well as in Lethbridge, Alberta. He is a man of irreproachable character and sterling integrity and the shareholders of the Company can rest assured that Mr. Laing will take good care of their interests.

Remember the 25 cent issue of stock is being rapidly subscribed and it is only a question of days until the remaining shares are all taken up, when the second block will be placed on the market at 35 cents.

son given by which the Chief Justice reaches the conclusion, in which the whole court concurs, he expresses the view that only contracts, combinations, commerce, or which are unreasonably or unduly restrain interstate trade and restrictive of competitive conditions, are within the prohibition of the first section of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"The chief justice also holds that the second section of the act seeks, if possible, to make the prohibitions of the act all the more complete and perfect by embracing all attempts to reach the ends prohibited by the first section, that is, restraints of trade by any attempt to monopolize, or a monopolization thereof even although the acts by which such results are attempted to be brought about, or are brought about, be not embraced within the general enumeration of the first section. He further holds that the criterion by which it is to be determined in all cases whether a contract, combination, etc., is in restraint of trade, is the direct or indirect effect of acts involved."

C. LORD'S DEATH RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Which Investigated Tragedy at Ladner

New Westminster, May 15.—An inquest was held here on the body of Charles Lord, a well known canneryman, who met death near Ladner, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death.

The accident occurred in a shack near Ladner, and there was only one man with him at the time. It appears that the two men, the victim and William Simms, were together, and while Mr. Simms' attention was attracted in another direction for a moment, he heard a shot. The unfortunate man stood for about a minute and then fell into the arms of his companion. Death was almost instantaneous, the bullet having entered the heart.

The deceased was well known throughout the district and he leaves many friends to mourn his loss. Besides a widow he leaves three daughters and four sons. The daughters are Misses Lella, Florence and Evelyn at Ladner, and one son at Ladner named Norman. One son, Clinton, is in Vancouver, and two sons, Chester and Leslie, at Seattle.

FOUND DEAD ON ROAD.

Vernon, May 15.—O. S. Mabey and H. M. Gutsell, of Ewing's Landing, were riding along the road near White Man's creek, when they discovered the body of a man beside the road near a culvert. He was lying upon his face and when they turned him over they found it to be the body of Wm. Smithson, a half breed. Life was quite extinct, and there were several bad bruises on the head from which blood was flowing. Mr. Mabey rode to Louis Bercler's place, and got assistance, and the body was brought to town.

On Thursday, the coroner, Dr. O. Morris, held an inquest. Several witnesses were to the effect that Smithson had come up from Kelowna and in company with an Indian woman had ridden to Dobbin's logging camp, where he borrowed a saddle. He had stopped to talk for a few minutes with J. C. Wulst, and had told him that he had been drinking, but had come back to work at the camp. He was then somewhat under the influence of liquor. It appears that the woman and he rode along until they met Alfred and Dan McDougall. Smithson talked to them for a while, and the woman rode on. She turned shortly after and saw Smithson galloping rapidly towards her. She went up to him behind a bend in the road. Shortly after his rideless horse came along to Marcel, the Indian's house, and she left to see what was the matter.

Dr. Duncan, who made a post mortem examination, reported that he had found a bad fracture of the skull, with a wound which crushed the bone beneath the right eyebrow and penetrated to the membranes covering the brain. This was, he thought, the cause of the death. The wound might have been made by a fall or a heavy blow such as a kick from a horse.

The jury, after considering the evidence, brought in a verdict of "accidental death."

FOR PUBLICITY WORK.

Chilliwack, May 15.—The township council very handsomely met the request from the board of trade delegation for a grant in aid of publicity work. Messrs. Barber and Goodland representing the board of trade in addressing the council spoke of the necessity for such work along this line and showed where other places with less natural advantages were being benefited by the expenditure of money in advertising and literature. To meet the request for information and to fully keep the public informed of the improvements and strides and changes being made in the geography of the place it was necessary to annually publish and distribute folders. This and much more to the same effect did the delegates from the board of trade say, which brought forth from the council a grant of $200 for the work.

The view taken by the majority of the members of the council was that while the whole district benefited by the influx of settlers, the township deserved an equal one with the city and was in duty bound to grant an equal amount with it.

NAVIGATION ON COLUMBIA.

Revelstoke, May 15.—The steamer Revelstoke, which has been plying on the Columbia river between Revelstoke and Laporte, forty-five miles north, for a number of years past, has started on its present season. G. S. McCarter, a member of the steamship company, was among the passengers. He went up in company with P. R. Petersen and a party of lumbermen to look over some timber areas which he recently purchased from that gentleman, with a view to arranging for the commencement of logging operations thereon. A party of cruisers, under M. C. Lawler, head cruiser for the B. C. Timber and Land Company, also left on the steamer for an extended trip in the Big Bend country.

GIVEN FIVE YEARS.

Nelson, May 15.—"We find the prisoner guilty on the first count," was the verdict of the jury after thirty-five minutes' deliberation at the assizes in the criminal case of Rex vs. Thurnston, who was indicted on three counts, the first of which was shooting with murderous intent. His lordship sentenced the prisoner, who is a Swede, with only a slight knowledge of English, to five years in the penitentiary at New Westminster.

RICH QUARTZ IS TAKEN TO HOPE

Arrival of Ore From Steamboat Mountain Country Cause Excitement

Hope, May 14.—Some excitement was caused in town by the arrival of M. E. Depreteau from the Steamboat Mountain country with the richest quartz ever seen here. Free gold and free silver were both visible without the aid of a glass, the former especially in large quantities in proportion to the size of the specimen. Old prospectors who saw it say that the only samples of quartz they have ever seen that compare at all favorably with it were those of the Poplar Creek mines in the Ladnan.

Mr. Depreteau refused to describe the location of his find further than by saying that it was nine miles from Steamboat Mountain. He explained that he had come out for supplies, and on his return meant to stake several more claims on adjoining ground. He further intimated that so far no one else had been on the ground where he was, at least no other claims have been staked very near.

J. Cold also arrived from the Steamboat trail and took the train for Vancouver. He has a sack of rich specimens of the characteristic ore of the country, porphyritic quartz carrying free gold. They are from the claims near the 21-mile post owned jointly by himself and E. Crawford.

ACCEPT VERDICT OF RATE-PAYERS.

New Westminster, May 15.—After a series of deliberations Trustees Dr. Green, Reid and Stoney, of the board of school management, decided that, as no provision had been made in the whole of the municipal clauses act for a recount of a ballot of the people, they are unwilling to ask the city to incur any expense in the law courts, and, therefore, they will recommend to the full board of trustees at a special meeting to-morrow, that no further steps be taken in the matter of a new High school plebiscite in the immediate future. A deal of expense would have been incurred to set in motion the machinery of the law and the representatives of the board did not feel justified in expending the ratepayers' money, despite the fact that the welfare of the scholars was at stake.

What the trustees may do in the matter is at this time uncertain, but from what members of that body say, no further action is likely to be taken.

SECURE GOLD PROPERTY.

Nelson, May 15.—By a payment slightly in excess of $10,000, being the final payment of the old Duncan United Mines bond, the Kootenay Gold Mines, Limited, have become the absolute owners of the famous Granite Foreman property, near Nelson. This bond was given some years ago by the Duncan United Mines, Limited, to Thomas Gough, who associated with himself, J. P. Swedberg and E. E. Guille, and through a very successful period of operation of the property was gradually reduced. Then on January 1 last, the Kootenay Gold Mines, Limited, took over the holdings of Messrs. Gough, Swedberg and Guille, for a cash payment and stock, the balance still owing was assumed by the new company. The making of the final payment terminates a most interesting period in the history of this famous producing gold property which, with the new capital available under the new order, is to be subjected to yet more extensive development.

IS PRESENTED WITH PURSE.

New Westminster, May 15.—Mrs. A. de B. Owen, wife of the pastor of St. Paul's Reformed church, was met at a social gathering in the residence of Mrs. L. Thorne, and presented with a purse of gold and an address testifying to the love and esteem in which she is held by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church. The address contained expressions of deep regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Owen from the city and wished them Godspeed. Mrs. Owen replied with feeling. Subsequently a pleasant musical evening was passed.

IMITATION

COUGH CURES

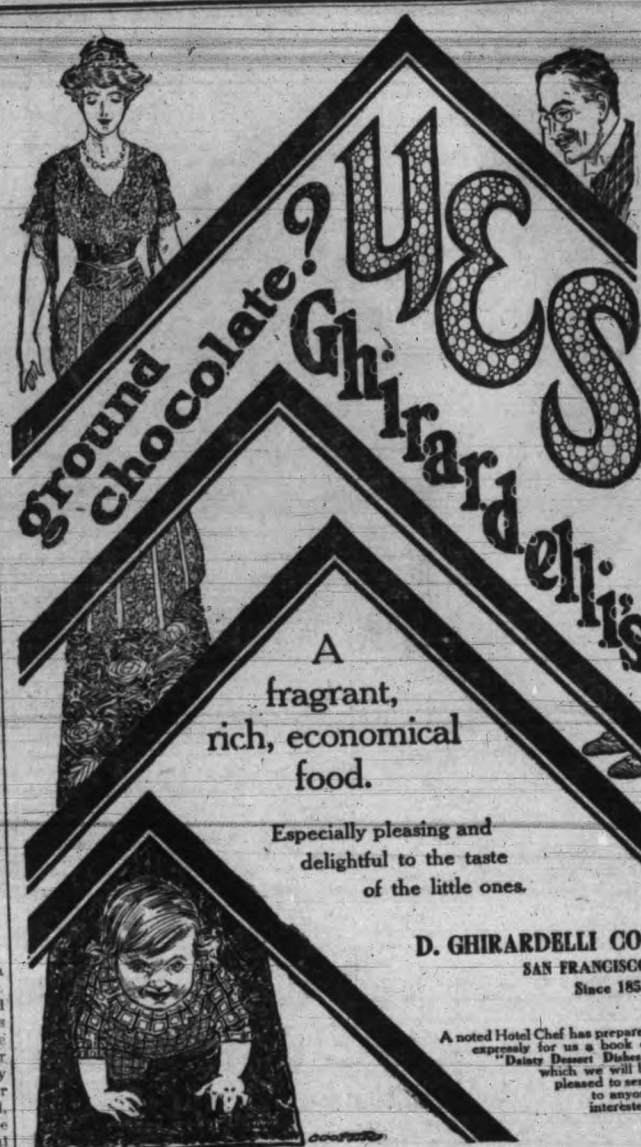

Is an Imitation Cough Medicine Good Enough for Your Children?

When you are sick and send for the doctor you don't want him to send a young medical student he has in his office. You would rather have the young fellow experiment on somebody else.

No more do you want imitations of the medicine you know to be of proven value in the cure of disease. The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the cure of croup, bronchitis and colds has proven too great a temptation to imitators. They expect you to take chances with their medicine because the price is a few cents less.

Imitations are never sold on merit, but depend on the merit of the article they imitate. You don't want to be experimented on, and for this reason will insist on seeing the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the bottle you buy.

As it is made of simple ingredients of proven value, it is well suited as a treatment for children. That it is effective in the cure of croup, bronchitis, whooping cough and the most severe coughs and colds is attested by its many years of continued success and enormous sales; 25 cents, all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BIG SEWER SCHEME TO BE VOTED UPON

Streets That Are Ready Will Be Dealt With Without Delay

Perhaps the most important money by-law which the ratepayers will be called upon to decide, whether it shall go through or be killed, Monday next is the sewer loan by-law, which calls for the raising of the sum of $300,000. This by-law owes its primary importance to the fact that the sum proposed to be raised by it is the largest on the list and also that the work which it proposes to do is among the most important that any city can undertake.

In Victoria in the past it has been the custom to pass a series of by-laws for different branches of the same work. For instance the sewer necessities in one particular district would receive the attention of the council at one particular time. No attempt was made before to cope with an entire sewer and drainage scheme in one by-law. Under the old scheme considerable delay was often occasioned through the dilatory method of having the work performed under the provisions of several by-laws.

All these hindering circumstances are now negotiated successfully by the adoption of the single by-law. No work need be delayed on account of the necessary authority not being granted. As a matter of fact, any delay that is occasioned in carrying out the drainage work in the future will be due to the fact that the areas affected will not be in readiness to have the work done.

Of course in order to save time and money arrangements have been made whereby none of the streets which it is proposed to drain under the new scheme will come up for treatment until such time as they have been properly paved. At the present time there are many streets throughout the city which are in a state of readiness to be sewered and as soon as the necessary authority is obtained by the

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" WILL ALWAYS CURE THIS TROUBLE

Neuralgia is really blood poisoning. To treat it with opium, morphine, cocaine, "headache powders" and other "pain-killers" is a crime.

The only possible way to cure Neuralgia is to purify the blood by making the kidneys, bowels and skin do their proper work in nature's own way.

This is the way "Fruit-a-tives" cures Neuralgia. "Fruit-a-tives" prevents the formation of Uric Acid—keeps the whole system strong and active—and will always cure Neuralgia, Rheumatism and Headaches due to poisoned blood.

PASSING SHOW

New Grand Theatre.

Chief among many features that will be attractive to Grand theatre visitors this week is the first introduction there of the harem skirt, which Edith Randall wears in the performance of "A Gay Old Boy," performing with that old time comedian, Frank Graham. The skirt is the dress feature of this week's bill, but there are others, and many of them are in the same act, for Miss Randall has with her a chantecler dress and other startling costumes from Paris. "A Gay Old Boy" is a comic dramatic satire, introducing several characters, much fun and laughter, as the gay old boy tries to be young again. The audience yesterday was very appreciative of Miss Randall's and Mr. Graham's efforts to please.

It is not often that the first act is found to be almost the best on the bill, but Frank and Nettie Ellison come in this class, with a modern musical interlude of the xylophone and ending with a charming representation of the village smithy, showing the blazing forge, etc. The act is entirely musical and the music is of the better kind.

Singing bass, baritone, tenor, soprano and contralto, Phenomena astonished the patrons of the Grand yesterday, for his is a marvellous voice, and has puzzled all because it upsets the recognized rules of harmony. Loud applause followed his singing of a selection from Ill Travatore in which he alternated with the tenor and contralto.

Florence Clark is responsible for some fun on the second floor of a hotel, and Edward Barto, as a bellhop who helps out in the fun, came in for his share of response from a pleased audience. All that happens is in the hotel on the second floor back, and to pass the time of waiting there is dancing with the bellhop, singing, and quarrelling.

The mid-air gymnastics of LaVier amazed and electrified, because he worked speedily and introduced many new falls and gymnastic effects. His is a fast and thrilling closing act. The Grandiose has laughing pictures.

Crystal Theatre.

Broad Street House to-day. It is entitled "The Guardsman" by the Rex Co. The King frequents the favorite inn when out on the hunt and to the same comes a countess who with others plot to take the monarch's life. She enters into a flirtation with Carl, a guardsman of the king's troupe. Gretchen, Carl's sweetheart, notes the change of Carl's affection, and determines to bide developments. On the day upon which the king is to be at the inn, the countess bribes the inn keeper into letting her act as the maid. The king orders wine and the countess pouring something besides wine into the glass, is detected from behind by Gretchen, who cries out to the king not to empty the goblet. The king on hearing the explanation, orders the countess and Carl taken into custody. He presents Gretchen with a ring, which he says he will redeem by granting any favor which she might ask, and at once Gretchen pleads for the pardon of Carl, which is at once granted, although the king dismisses him from his service.

"The Pillars of Society"—Tham-houser drama. This is a real Ibsen film. Other films are: "The Somnambulist," drama; "The Gift Quarters of Tunis," "Won on Wheels," comedy drama; "The Foreman's Bride," great Western story.

Church Solved Problem of Attendance With Woman Pastor.

Tewksbury, Mass., May 16.—The Rev. Sarah A. Dixon, pastor of the Congregational church in this town, has proved that woman can minister to the spiritual wants of a community with even greater success than her male predecessors.

Rev. Miss Dixon has, through her efforts, increased the membership of the church and has caused more men to become enrolled in the last year than were added in all the previous 175 years of the church's existence.

There is no lack of interest in Miss Dixon's church, and "church going" is a fixed habit with young and old of her congregation. In the Sunday gatherings that listen to her preaching are many with whom church attendance had not been for many years part of their Sunday programme.

A native of Barnstable, Mass., Rev. Miss Dixon early displayed her intellectual powers. She was graduated from the Bridgewater Normal school with a teacher's diploma at the age of 18. For five years she taught, but felt a call to the ministry which she decided to answer by entering the College of Liberal Arts at Boston university.

Miss Dixon says, "To knock at the door and enter a kitchen and have one say, 'I'm glad you are a woman for I can have a talk with you right here in my kitchen,' to sit by the sick and hear one whisper, 'I'm glad you are a woman, for I can tell what is burdening my heart'—yes, even to call in time of house-cleaning and hear 'You can come in, but I wouldn't have come to the door if it had been a man'—all these experiences make me thank God I am a minister with authority of the church back of my words and acts."

"If I was a man I would vote, I would go into town meeting and exert my influence, for I am a firm believer in woman suffrage."

SALE OF OLD SILVER.

London, May 16.—Antiquarians are taking great interest in the sale of the collections of the English silver, furniture and other treasures of the late Lady Meux who died recently, leaving an eccentric will disposing of her great fortune. Lady Meux was an obscure actress and wife of a wealthy brewer.

The sale began yesterday in Theobald's park, the Meux seat, and will last ten days. Historically, the most interesting article to be sold is an Elizabethan carved oak staircase.

The silver plate to be sold amounts to 10,000 ounces. Much of it is of the Stuart period, and includes a set of Charles II. dinner plates, supposed to have belonged to Nell Gwynn.

SECRET COUNCIL MEETINGS.

The Regina newspapers have won out in a tilt with the city council, says the Edmonton Bulletin. They did it by giving the aldermen a copious dose of their own medicine. Some time since the aldermen developed a disposition to do civic business in the dark. The real business of the council was done in committee meetings, from which the reporters were excluded; the council meetings being merely formal affairs, at which the pre-arranged proceedings were registered. Naturally the newspapers did not think this fair to the public; they are paid to supply with news, of civic affairs among other things. They decided to give the aldermen what the aldermen seemed to want, and in large doses. The papers stopped publishing reports of the formal council meetings and practically barred council from mention in their columns. That was too much for the aldermen. They were not being heard of in the community, and election time is drawing nearer. As a result, the doors of the committee room were thrown open the other evening and the reporters allowed to come back. The papers are now telling their readers once more that Regina has a city council, and that the council sometimes meets and transacts business. Regina people will likely enjoy the privilege of knowing how their money is being spent for a long time to come.

INJURED BY EXPLOSION.

Nanaimo, May 16.—While engaged in blasting operations near Coombe's, a man named W. De Merchants was seriously injured. A charge he was handling exploded, badly injuring him about the face and head. He was brought to the local hospital, where his injuries, which are considered serious, were attended to.

CITY OF VICTORIA

A complete list of Local Improvement Works, authorized by By-Law, from time to time, will be found posted on the Bulletin Board at the main entrance to the City Hall.

A BY-LAW TO RAISE $30,000 FOR THE PURPOSE OF RE-ARRANGING THE MARKET BUILDING FOR USE AS POLICE HEADQUARTERS AND JAIL

WHEREAS it is necessary to raise the sum of $30,000 for the purpose of re-constructing and re-arranging the Market Building as to afford a permanent headquarters for the Police Force and for a common jail for the City of Victoria:

AND WHEREAS the whole rateable land and improvements or real property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, according to the last revised Assessment Roll for the year 1910, was $2,089,927:

AND WHEREAS the total amount required to be raised annually by rate for the purpose of the said By-Law, and for the interest thereon, and for creating an annual sinking fund for the payment off of the said debt within twenty-five years according to law is $12,905.57:

AND WHEREAS this By-Law may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council:

THEREFORE the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow on the credit of the said Corporation by debentures, from any person or persons, or body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the sum of $30,000, or such part thereof as may be required, at the rate of four per cent. per annum from the date of the purchase of the said debentures, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purposes and with the object hereinbefore recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $30,000, either in currency or sterling money, at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purposes and with the object hereinbefore recited.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the day after the date of the passing of this By-Law, and shall be made payable in twenty-five years from said date, at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain or the United States of America, as may be designated thereon, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, which coupons may be either written, stamped, printed, lithographed or engraved.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly, on the 1st day of January and 1st day of July, at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain or the United States of America, as may be designated thereon, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, which coupons may be either written, stamped, printed, lithographed or engraved.

5. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council to cause the said debentures and interest coupons, either or both, to be made payable at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain or the United States of America, as may be designated.

6. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council of the Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation and engraving or lithographing of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of the said debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council to reserve, in the said debentures, the right upon any consolidation of the debentures issued in pursuance of this By-Law, and in each debenture issued hereunder a clause conditional for the substitution of the said debentures for the purpose of raising annually the required sum for the payment of the interest on the said debentures, during the term of the said debentures, until the sum of $12,905.57, and for the payment off of the debt at maturity thereon, shall be raised annually by rate sufficient therefor, and for the purpose of creating the sinking fund for the payment off of the debt at maturity thereon, shall be raised annually by rate sufficient therefor, and for the purpose of creating the sinking fund for the payment off of the debt at maturity thereon, shall be raised annually by rate sufficient therefor.

8. This By-Law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the Mayor and Council of the Corporation in the manner provided for in the Municipal Charter, and shall take effect on the day after the final passing thereof.

9. This By-Law may be cited as the "By-Law for re-arranging the Market Building for Police Headquarters and Jail Purposes."

Passed the Municipal Council on the 8th day of May, 1911.

A SWITZERLAND IN CANADIAN ROCKIES

Homes Being Built Near Golden for the C. P. R. Sturdy Mountain Guides

Switzerland is not in America, but those on this continent who wish to have a glimpse of Swiss life in Swiss settings, after a few months, will not have to cross the Atlantic to obtain it. The little European republic is not to be moved bodily from where it is—though room in plenty could be found for a score or more of Switzerlands in the Canadian Rockies—but a typical Swiss village is to be created that will give visitors to that wonderful sea of mountains a very comprehensive idea of the habits and customs of the hardy mountaineers from across the sea.

A permanent home for the corps of Swiss guides who are annually brought over by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to assist mountain climbers in their ascents is being established in a part of the Rockies that will suit the native characteristics and affords them during months of otherwise comparative idleness ample opportunities for further development of strenuous outside athletic sports. It will give them and their families a new home in this new land, and, while commencing on an unexplored scale, will doubtless develop into a large settlement, populated by a hardy class of self-reliant, adventurous men who know the ways of the summits of snow-capped peaks, and the picturesque of the surrounding mountains, and furnish a pleasing and interesting sight to the great brotherhood of nomads who are continually passing through the mountains on Canada's pioneer transcontinental road. It will be a development of great interest, this growth of the new Switzerland in Canada.

The site which has been chosen for the future Swiss village of Canada lies in the province of British Columbia on the north side of the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway, and the first village will be situated at the first western mile-stone adjoining the quaint Canadian village of Golden. Golden embraces within its borders the point of union of the Kicking Horse and the Columbia rivers. Here the latter, brown, slow and solemn, finds its pulses quickened, the volume of its flow increased and a change of hue given to the colors of its waters by the tempestuous entrance of the glacial flood of the Kicking Horse as it speeds on its way from the Great Divide of the Rockies. On every side of the site mountains of varying contour rise above the small plateau. To the east are the steep, sun-kissed bald peaks of the Rocky Mountain range; to the west and to the south are seen the more gradual and well-wooded slopes of the Selkirk, which rise in undulating benches to majestic heights, while coursing across it in three different directions are the waters of the two rivers.

Within close range of the western reaches of the Selkirk, on the north bank of the Columbia river lies, sloping to the south, the old farmstead on which the romance-pictured Swiss cottages are to be erected. Along its eastern side flows Hospital creek, while through the centre trickles a small stream fed by limpid springs from the foothills. The wooded mountains to the south are favorite haunts of deer and bear; the Columbia river teems with fish which are good for eating, the high rocky peaks to the north, which for nearly every month in the year are snow-capped, are famous as the home of the mountain goat, mountain sheep and the grizzly bear. A movement is on foot to try the introduction of chamois into the mountainous region, which would give further zest to the sportsman's appetite. In the nearby mountain fastnesses in every direction there are splendid chances for easy hunting during the proper season, and for snow-shoeing, skiing and tobogganing, while skating and curling are already popular pastimes at Golden during the months of snow. Further afield are high virgin peaks yet unclimbed and unnamed, which offer great temptation to the experienced alpinist.

The new village is to be called "Edelweiss"—the herald flower of the Swiss—and its location is on a plateau which rises 200 feet from the bottom lands, and within unobstructed view of the passing trains. The spot is a most picturesque one. The plateau and the hillsides are dotted with clumps of poplar, whose light greenish leaves pleasantly contrast with the darker shades of fir and spruce, these combining to form an unusually pretty picture. The cottages—half a dozen to start with—will naturally be distinctively Swiss in architectural design, construction and surroundings; in fact, they will breathe the Swiss atmosphere. In the rich alluvial soil the dwellers will find opportunities galore for gardening in the small individual holdings which are attached to the cottages, and these will contribute materially towards the upkeep of the households, and doubtless will eventually expand into sources of supply for the profitable markets.

The Columbia river, which flows from Lake Windermere and other mother lakes about 160 miles south of Golden, is one of the most tortuous waterways in the world. Its course is northwest to a point past Golden called Boat Encampment, where it makes what is called the Big Bend, and turns south again, crossing under the C. P. R. tracks at Revelstoke, the railway having cut across the mountain range to meet it. From here it flows on into the Arrow lakes and into United States territory, finally emptying itself into the Pacific Ocean by its mouth, nearly 2,000 miles distant by its meanderings from its source. Between Golden and Windermere there are splendid roads, now much used by motorists, and these will be extended to Banff and Calgary on the main line of the C. P. R.

LICENSE DIFFICULTY FURTHER ENTANGLED

Proposal to Expropriate Potter Property for City Yard Fails to Carry

The vexed question of Thomas S. Potter's licence in the vicinity of the George Jay school was the indirect means of keeping the estimates from being finally ratified at last night's meeting of the city council.

It was proposed that the sum of $40,000 should be placed in the estimates as a contingent fund for the purpose of making arrangements to secure the property on which the present building of Mr. Potter's stands, with a view of converting it into city yards. By this means it was hoped to get rid not only of the licence but at the same time provide the city with a much-needed yard.

The proposition, however, rolled up against stiff opposition, as a result of which nothing definite could be done. The estimates had to be held over, as also had the building permit of Mr. Potter, which, as has already been reported, must be granted.

The difficulty in connection with carrying out this proposed scheme came primarily from Alderman H. M. Fullerton. He claimed that the land proposed to be purchased, which extends over an area of seven acres, was not only too large for the purpose but was too far removed from the waterfront. Another objection was as to the price. He did not think that the tract of land in question was by any means the cheapest on the market and he did not think it was fair, therefore, for the city to enter into a contract without giving the other land-owners a chance.

The alderman's opposition to the scheme was, of course, based on the business proposition of selecting a site for the city yards, and did not take into account at all the sentimental reason of getting rid of the licensed premises in proximity to the George Jay school. Alderman Gleason, on the other hand, favored the project for that specific reason along with sundry others, and he was immediately asked by Alderman Humber why he did not propose to expropriate the land and liquor licences of owners who operated public houses in close proximity to the North Ward School. On the temperance plea Alderman Humber had no reply, as if they were going to protect one school from any bad effects of being situated near a licensed house, he thought they should protect them all. And again on the ground of utility he attacked the scheme. He claimed that the proper place for the city yards was somewhere near the waterfront. He also thought that the tract of land in question was too large for the purpose.

Other objections to the scheme were mentioned by Alderman Langley and Bishop. The latter pointed out that it was not likely that the residents in that particular district would care to have their property depreciated by the presence in their midst of a city yard and dumping ground.

After further deliberation it was decided to appoint a committee consisting of an alderman from each ward, to co-operate with the city assessor and city engineer in looking over the most suitable sites for the purpose in hand. In the meantime, through the indulgence of Mr. Potter, his licence will be held over in the hope that the committee will be brought to a realization of the fact that the only suitable site for the city yard is the property on which his proposed hotel stands.

Many birds have an instinctive precience of floods, and will change the positions of their nests or make other provisions for safety just before a heavy rain, falling in a flood which sweeps away their former homes.

In France if a person dies leaving insufficient money to pay his debts the doctor's bill is entered first and then the rest of the deceased's liabilities are dealt with.

APPEAL TO MOTHERS TO PROTECT CHILDREN

REV. DR. CAMPBELL
MAKES STRONG CASE

Mothers' Day is fittingly celebrated in First Presbyterian Church, Victoria

On Sunday morning Dr. Campbell at the First Presbyterian church observed Mother's Day by taking as his motto Samuel 1:19—"Samuel's mother made him a coat, and brought it to him from year to year, when she came up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice."

The Doctor said how much like a good faithful mother, times have changed but true mothers change not. Her influence in the nation is greater than that of the army or navy, or both combined. "The first book a boy reads, and the last he lays aside, at the close of life is his mother's conduct. Mother is the most beautiful word in the English language. It has a marvellous charm as it comes from a child's lips. Mother's kindly voice has often thought back to the path of virtue an erring son or daughter. God has placed in her care minds and hearts to be moulded for His glory, and the world's good. There can be no truer friend than a true mother. In adversity and prosperity, in sunshine and in shade she is the same true friend that can be trusted. Home is largely what mother makes it. The morality and purity of a nation rise no higher than those of the mothers of that nation. Had she the franchise, as she certainly ought to have the liquor trade, immorality and impurity, and everything that works against the good of mankind would have an uncompromising enemy at the ballot box, for she is always on the right side in such matters.

A true mother fits a man for the great work of life by beginning in childhood, and helping him in manhood. Who can estimate the blessing of a true mother in the home? She exercises self-denial for her children which nothing else than strong, natural affection would prompt her to undergo. She lives for her children and prays for them and with them. How sadly it sounds to any ear when it is said of a boy: "He has no mother, she is dead." His best guide and his guardian angel in a legion of temptations is gone, and notwithstanding his father's care, is "exposed to every wind that blows." While this is true of a boy it is much more so of a girl, for how helpless and how weak she is without her mother's tender care and wise counsel. Mothers, make your children your first care. They will soon grow up, and go out into the world, for nothing grows like children. Let your whole house be for them. You may feel sometimes annoyed as they come in from school or play, and rush pell-mell into the house, slamming doors and strewn the floor with bats and balls, and strings, and caps, and broken toys. How touching Clara G. Dolliver describes a house without children:

"No baby in the house, I know,
'Tis far too nice and clean.
No toys, by careless fingers strewn
Upon the floors are seen.
No finger marks are on the panes;
No scratches on the chairs;
No wooden men set up in rows,
Or marionettes off in pairs;
No little stockings to be darned,
All ragged at the toes;
No pile of mending to be done
Made up of baby clothes.
No little troubles to be soothed;
No little hand to fold;
No grimy fingers to be washed;
No stories to be told;
No tender kisses to be given;
No nicknames, 'Dove' and 'Mouse';
No merry frolic after tea,
No baby in the house!"

Dr. Campbell made a strong appeal to parents on behalf of the training of their children, and concluded by quoting Charles Dickens' touching poem, "The Children," and the congregation sang with emphasis and feeling the hymn, "Mothers of Salem."

OPENING NEW BUILDING.

Y. M. C. A.'s Home Ready in a Month—Formal Opening in Fall.

A letter has been received from H. E. Beale, physical director of the Springfield training school, stating that he will not arrive until July to take charge of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium work here. In consideration of this, and because of the many holidays that occur this summer, it has been decided to open the new building as early as possible in June, to get the work started.

The formal opening will not take place until fall, when the season's activity will begin. Work on the new building will now be pushed rapidly. Applications for rooms and lockers are coming in daily.

C. R. Sayer, field secretary in Winnipeg, will be here about the end of June and will assist in drawing up plans for the new work.

A large number of applications for the position of engineer in the new building have been received and referred to a special committee.

OAK BAY'S ASSESSMENT.

The Oak Bay court of revision has been adjourned until Thursday, May 18. There are no appeals and, as a consequence, at Thursday morning's meeting the following will be adopted: Total assessed value of municipality $3,246,263. Less assessed value of improvements 661,129. Less assessed value of land exempt from taxation 99,690. Net assessed value of taxation 2,485,443.

PROTEST MADE BY COUNCIL OF WOMEN

Objection to Short Notice of Annual Meeting Regardless of the Constitution

A protest by the Local Council of Women, passed at a special meeting held yesterday, is to be lodged with the National Council against the suspending of the constitution, which took place at an executive meeting held at Toronto on April 19, for the purpose of holding the annual meeting on June 14 at Port Arthur.

A letter from the national secretary, Miss Agnes Riddell, was read to the meeting, and the reading was followed by Mrs. Gordon Grant moving the resolution of protest. Mrs. Jenkins was the seconder. A second resolution passed, with Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Day as its sponsors, asking that the National Council arrange a fixed date for the annual meeting so that local councils may better be able to arrange for representation thereat.

According to the national constitution two months' notice must be given to all local councils of the time of the annual meeting in order that consideration may be given to the matter to come before the meeting.

The secretary was instructed to write Miss Riddell that Mrs. Day, of the local council, was the choice for provincial vice-president. Other matters in the letter from Miss Riddell were set over and a reply sent that it was impossible to deal with them in the short space of time available. The council accepted with thanks the offer of Mrs. Bradshaw to make copies of important letters received from the national secretary. There was a full attendance of the executive, and the meeting was presided over by Miss Crease. One of the matters taken up was the Queen Mary memorial fund of the council of women. All council members in Victoria are given an opportunity to subscribe. Many delegates paid their subscriptions at the meeting and all must be sent to Miss Crease by June 1.

PASSING OF THE SYREN.

The use of the siren on all motors or cycles will hereafter be prohibited by the chief of police. This action is being taken on the suggestion of the fire chief. At the present time there is a regulation to this effect but it has never been enforced. Its enforcement now is with a view to facilitating the work of the fire brigade. If the fire department is the only one allowed to use the siren it will individualize its use and thus help the department. The motor apparatus of the department is now due so that the regulation is being enforced at the correct time.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

A young man, previously much respected and liked in his community, was convicted of forging a cheque. Said the young man's former friend: "Isn't it shocking? To think how we were deceived in him. And yet no wonder we were. Look at the care he took of his mother, and how nice he was to his sisters, and how courteous to old people and generous to anyone in trouble. And to think, it was all hypocrisy, and that he was like this underneath. Well, it shows you never can tell."

A young woman of excellent standing and good family made a fatal mistake because she loved "not wisely, but too well."

Among her acquaintances the conversation ran like this:

"Would you ever have thought it of Elizabeth?"

"No, she's the last person I would ever have believed that of."

"She had such ideals about things and thought so much of people who were really good. It just shows that oftentimes the people who pretend to be so good are much worse than other people."

"I believe you. I always mistrusted Elizabeth, anyway. She seemed too good to be true."

So the two communities decided that they had been greatly mistaken in seeing good traits in the young man and in Elizabeth, and sadly came to the conclusion that humankind are much more unregenerate than we realize.

That is, some came to the conclusion sadly, but more with the smirking, smug, unacknowledged, but none the less, keen sense of gratification with which erring men and women discover faults in those they had feared were better than they.

But the point is that as a whole, these two communities condemned these two people, and wondered how they could ever have been so deceived in them.

All of which is a commonplace happening in every community. But there's something I wonder. It's this: If a convict should suddenly do some astonishing good deed why shouldn't we all join in saying: "And to think, we thought he was a forger," or "To think, we thought he could have tried to kill a man, etc., etc. How mistaken we were. We must take him out of prison at once and reinstate him. A man who does anything so good as that can't have any bad in him. The bad must have been mere pretence."

Wouldn't that be quite as logical as our wholesale condemnation of the young man who forged the cheque or the girl who made a cruel mistake?

No human being is all good or all bad. Most of us are Jekylls and Hydes. When the Hyde in a man or woman violently offends public morality, as in the case of the woman, or breaks the law, as in the case of the man, that does not necessarily mean that the Jekyll is not just as real and desirable and lovable as it ever was.

Remember that when you would decide that you were mistaken in thinking anyone good because he commits some one unlawful or unpardonable act.

Remember that in your own case, when you would give up the battle because you have failed slightly in some one direction. No matter what evil manifestation the Hyde within you may have accomplished, the Jekyll is still there. Believe in him, and encourage him, and no matter what power the Hyde may have attained, you will not have failed utterly.

In Albania a man who is about to marry is forbidden, by the etiquette of the country, to mention the subject, and he is obliged to act as if he were very much ashamed of himself throughout the ceremony.

Seattle, Wash., May 15.—When Chas. W. Hills commenced a divorce action against Jane Hills several months ago he swore that he was a resident of King county and the state of Washington. Yesterday he asked for a dismissal of the case, the matrimonial quarrel having been made up, and swore that he is a resident of Vancouver, B. C.

Judge John F. Main asked that the conflicting affidavits be brought to the attention of the prosecuting attorney.

The court also directed that an order for the payment of a $500 attorney fee by the husband be set aside on the motion of Hills. The attorney in the case, some weeks ago, stipulated for the $500 fee. Hills now states that he knew nothing about it. John Trumbull represented both husband and wife in the effort to get the litigation out of the way.

Diamond Distinction

YOU do not buy diamonds every day of your life, and when you do, there are so many factors entering into their purchase that you consider thoughtfully, where to buy, and why you buy there—reputation is something—it is only bought by a good standing maintained through long service, and reliance is gained only by use of a reputation. This store has served the public of Victoria for years in the capacity of advisers and counsellors of thousands in diamond buying, and so it must be faithfulness together with our authoritative knowledge which makes this truly "The Diamond store of Victoria."

We suggest that you visit us and judge by personal contact.

NEW STRAINER SPOON.

A strainer spoon for which many advantages are claimed by the New York man who devised it is shown herewith. The secret of this spoon's versatility lies in the fact that it is only partially meshed and that the bowl has enough solid metal to enable it to be used in straining, for skimming jelly or soup, poaching eggs, whipping cream or for any of the myriad uses to which spoons are put in the kitchen. As will be noticed, the bowl has a wide strip of metal around the edge, only a comparatively small portion in the centre having the wire meshing. The consequence is that this implement can be used either as a spoon or a strainer and the cook need not go to the cutlery drawer a dozen times while preparing a meal to get just the utensils needed for a particular task.

AN APPEAL TO WIVES

No more terrible affliction can come to any home than the excessive use of intoxicants by husband or son. Think of the money wasted in drink, which is needed in the home to purchase food and clothing. If you have a drinking husband or son, give him ORRINE. We are so sure that ORRINE will do what is claimed for it that, if after a trial no benefits are derived from it, we will refund the money.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms. No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORRINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free ORRINE Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to ORRINE CO., Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. ORRINE is recommended and is for sale in this city by C. H. Bowes, 1228 Government street.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me."

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANET KIL, 2008 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

OUR LETTER BOX

WHY NOT A TUXEDO?

To the Editor:—I, as one of the little runts, would like to put in a plea against the swallow-tail coat.

Why can't we short chaps have a coat invented to suit us? Why can't we have something like an Eaton without tails, or like an officer's dinner coat? I'm tired of looking like a cock robin or tom tit—no legs, all tail.

Shorties, arise and strike!

A SUFFERER

SETTLERS AND GOOD ROADS.

To the Editor:—May I take up a little of the space in your valuable newspaper for the following?

As you will see by my card, which I enclose, I am one who is closely identified with the building up and settling of this treasure island of ours, and anything that militates either for or against its permanent future prosperity will always receive my matured deliberation.

Outside the fearfully serious handicap of having no land to offer settlers who are flocking to this province, and who roundly abuse everything and everybody for neglecting them out here for nothing, there is another question that looms largely on the horizon, and that is, what is being done in the way of developing the agricultural interests, the backbone of every civilized and intelligent community in every part of the globe? Are we properly facing this question when one sees that, for all our vaunted "very great" prosperity, practically all the millions of dollars which go to make up this alleged prosperity goes out of the province for lack of farms and people to work those we already have?

Much is being talked about roads being made first before we can hope to get farmers to go on to the land, and so on, and so on, but the fact is, there is no wood to cut—no land, I mean. The roads so much held up to public admiration are for the joy rider who lives upon the fat of the land while it lasts, or, strictly speaking, I can also state, for the glorification and special benefit of a select few fortunate to have got right with the present government in their hook or by crook policy. But are the huge sums available for public expenditure being used to the best advantage? I begin to doubt this from reports I am continually receiving and from observing facts during my wanderings up and down. Take, for instance, today I met with a large party of would-be farmer who have just returned from a fruitless land hunt up north. They have been visiting Holberg and Quatsino. These men are from one of the most prosperous parts of Washington state, farmers and orchardists of over 20 years' experience in the state, and presumably ought to know whereof they speak. They unanimously and emphatically state: "Your system of road work is the very worst possible; your land settlement conditions are nearly as bad. If the road propositions like those we saw at the Quatsino settlement are any criterion to the rest of the province, you are in a tight place. No man who is an old settler, nearly every other man in that highly favored district holds a government job, on the principle of Artemus Ward's tale of the 20 able-bodied postmen he met, each carrying a letter in his hand and evading a question in the line of the Civil war, mail carriers, being exempt, only in this case it is said to be scrupulous to avoid having to work for a living, but road making appears to have been so far regarded in that locality as a "best" or "good" thing, that peace together amongst certain folks who are constructing roads and pathways from house to house on the principle of rabbit-warrens for the sole apparent purpose of getting there from all points of the compass, according to every change of wind."

Roads begin somewhere and end nowhere, for nobody appears to be living in the several miserable shacks erected on the land away from salt water, and these expensive means of communication are supposed to serve. We saw government roads (?) costing, we were informed on good authority, in the neighborhood of $10,000 per mile to construct with the last two years' money doled down to timothy and fenced across with barbed wire at each man's boundary line, and being pastured by cattle. A wagon wheel has never been seen to roll on this King's highway in all the 16 or 17 years it has been in the making. We were also shown what was regarded as a great curiosity at Quatsino, a plough that had been specially constructed to be used by hand labor some years ago in lieu of the entire absence of horses or even mules, the only plough there even now. Everything has to be purchased by the farmers (?) from Victoria in the shape of vegetables. It does not seem possible to realize, Mr. Editor, that every potato grown in the place has to be imported 300 miles away, and that it does not pay to raise them so long as road work at $1 per day of eight hours, which was paid at Quatsino last summer, can be obtained just outside

YOU WOULD NOT HAVE THIS CHANCE

If the proprietors did not feel that they had earned retirement. This offer involves a private hotel that has no equal in the city. It contains all modern improvements and is always besought by more guests than it can accommodate despite the highest rates. The property, 60x120, will be worth the price in a few years without the house and the latter is good for many years to come. The returns from this business are very large. There is also room on the property for the addition of bachelors' apartments if desired.

Property commands splendid view and has ornamental and fruit trees and shrubs and necessary out-buildings. House contains 20 rooms, is hot water heated and very solidly built. You can handle this with

TRIUMPH OF THE NAVAL TURBINE

Every Vessel in Imperial First Naval Division is Now First Class

By giving instructions for the battleship Agamemnon to be transferred from the first to the second division of the Home Fleet the Admiralty has brought about a striking transformation in the former fleet. The armored cruiser Defence is shortly to be removed from the First Cruiser Squadron, and when this has been done every one of the fighting units in the First Division will be driven by turbine engines. In addition to this, and of quite equal importance, every armored ship will be of the Dreadnought type.

It is only six years since the first armored ship to be propelled by turbines—the Dreadnought—was laid down. Before that the only turbine vessels in the British Navy were the protected cruiser Amethyst, the destroyers Velox and Edon, and a number of small torpedo boats.

The success of the turbine was instantaneous, and that it has well maintained its early reputation is clearly evidenced by the present constitution of the First Division of the Home Fleet. When the Agamemnon has been relegated to the Second Division, the premier force will consist, so far as battleships are concerned, of the Dreadnought, Bellerophon, Temeraire, Superb, St. Vincent, Collingwood, Neptune and Vanguard.

Each of these vessels is of the Dreadnought or improved Dreadnought type. Each carries ten 12 inch guns, and their displacements range from 17,000 to 19,500 tons. All are fitted with engines of the Parsons turbine type; and although they were designed for a uniform speed of 21 knots they have all succeeded in surpassing this, the records varying from 21.6 knots in the case of a Superb to 22.7 for the Neptune and Temeraire.

The First Cruiser Squadron, after the departure of the Defence, will also be composed entirely of turbine-driven Dreadnoughts, four in number. The Indefatigable, Inflexible and Indomitable are sister ships of 17,250 tons; and while their turbine engines of 41,000 horse power, were designed to give 25 knots only, on trial they all exceeded 28 knots. The fourth ship, the 18,750-ton Indefatigable, has on her latest trials beaten all records with a speed of 23 knots. These ships have eight 12 inch guns each.

Attached to the battle squadron are the two protected cruisers, Gloucester and Liverpool. These are also driven by turbines, designed to give a speed of 23 knots, but realising over 25 on trial.

Finally, there is the First Destroyer Flotilla. This force consists of 25 vessels, all of which, with one unfortunate exception, are turbine propelled. The exception is the Rother, which is retained in the flotilla pending the delivery of the Nautilus. This vessel, built by the Thames Ironworks, was built in good time, but during her trials met with two accidents for which the builders were in no way responsible.

When the Nautilus has replaced the Rother, the First Flotilla will be wholly turbine-driven. The largest and fastest of the batch is the Swift, of 2,170 tons, fitted with turbine engines of 30,000 horse power (7,000 more than the 17,300 ton Dreadnought), and designed for a speed of 36 knots, which has been exceeded by over 20 knots. Although designed for only 33 knots the destroyer Tartar has proved herself faster at times even than the Swift, her record standing at 40.2 knots per hour—over 45 miles!

Four vessels are attached to the Destroyer Flotilla—the unprotected cruisers, Boudicca and Blanche (the former being the ship of the command), the scout Patrol, and the depot ship, Bluebell. The first two are propelled by turbines, and the Patrol is shortly to be relieved by a sister ship to the Blanche.

In comparison with these facts it is of some interest to note that the only other Powers with completed armor-plated turbine-driven ships, the Japanese, with the battleship Aki and the armored cruiser Ibuki; Germany, with the cruiser Von der Tann; the United States, with the battleship North Dakota; and Italy, with the cruiser San Marco.

NEW FLYING RECORDS.

Rheims, May 14.—Speed records, with and without a passenger, were twice broken yesterday in remarkable monoplane flights.

A speed of more than 100 kilometres (62.5 miles) an hour was attained in the first flight by the American aviator, Henry E. Wayman. He started over Mourmelon with Count Robillard as a passenger. A strong wind, almost amounting to a gale, caused the machine to plunge in a terrifying manner with wild sweeps, the light constantly varying from 30 to 80 feet.

Later, Lieut. Pegant, in a new monoplane, Lieut. Bley acting as observation officer, made a flight over the same course under the same conditions. This flight was without interruption, and the distance was completed in 10 minutes and 20 seconds, a speed of 102 kilometres (63.7 miles) maintained.

BOY ELECTROCUTED.

Raymond, Wash., May 14.—Earl Pearce, the 16-year-old son of Ralph Pearce, a prominent logger of Pacific coast, met instant death in this city by electrocution. Young Pearce, who was fishing off the big steel drawbridge which spans the north fork of the Willapa river at this point, got his fish line entangled in the high-voltage wires on the bridge where they leave the cable, and climbing up to release the line grabbed the live wires, which, though insulated, owing to the recent heavy rains was permeated by the death-dealing current of electricity. The unfortunate lad was instantly killed and his body dropped to the stream below where it was found some hours later.

OBITUARY RECORD

Charles Addison Ferris, aged 26, passed away this morning at the family residence, 1925 Johnson street. The deceased was well known in this city, coming from Idaho at an early age. He was a cigar-maker by trade. A mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ferris, of Seattle, survive. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 2 p.m. from the house and fifteen minutes later from St. Barnabas church. Rev. F. H. Fatt will conduct services. The remains will be removed to the house from the Hanna chapel tomorrow morning.

The remains of the late William Johnstone were laid to rest in Colwood cemetery this afternoon. The funeral took place from the Victoria Undertaking parlors at 1 o'clock and at 3 from Colwood church. Services were conducted by Rev. W. Leslie Clay. Many friends attended and numerous beautiful floral wreaths were sent. The pallbearers were: John Braden, W. L. Sea, Leonard Salt and R. S. Thompson.

The death occurred at Vancouver on Saturday morning of John Murray, formerly one of the provincial rangers. Deceased was a great friend of the late Michael King, of this city, the two being associated in timber interests both here and in Mexico. The late Mr. Murray was 52 years of age. He leaves a wife and daughter at Brandon, Manitoba, and a father and mother at Lucknow, Ont.

A cablegram from London announces the death of Mr. C. H. Wilkinson, managing director of the British Columbia Development company and original promoter of the White Pass and Yukon railway.

The remains of William Sidney Macdonell, son of R. J. Macdonell, formerly of this city, but now of Hazelton, arrived on the Prince Rupert on Sunday morning, accompanied by the father. The deceased was 23 years of age and a native of Victoria, where he was educated. He passed away at Hazelton on April 8, but owing to the river being frozen it was impossible to forward the remains until a few days ago. Mr. Macdonell, Sr., before leaving Prince Rupert for this city, received an additional blow in the news of the death of his younger son. James Matthew, aged 19. The remains of the second son are expected to arrive here tomorrow, and the funeral of the brothers will take place on Sunday next from the B. C. Funeral Parlors, under the auspices of the P. O. E. Rev. A. E. Roberts will conduct services and interment will take place in Ross Bay cemetery.

The greatest heart force in the world is the British Home Fleet, which comprises the total number of over 200 hundred of every type of warship that exists today.

LOCAL NEWS

—Thomas Galloway, charged with looking on at a gambling game in premises at 576 Johnson street, was fined $25 in the police court this morning. He was defended by W. C. Moresby.

—D. Hill, assistant business agent for the carpenters, stated this morning that with the exception of about seven men, all the carpenters returned to work. Yesterday all but ten per cent were called for by their employers. It is expected that within two or three days every one will have returned to his work.

—It is expected that the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Chicago Maru will dock at the outer wharf early tomorrow. She is due to arrive at William Head quarantine station late to-night and will be piloted up to the wharf first thing in the morning. The Blue Funnel liner Antiochus will leave port tomorrow morning for Liverpool via the Far East, with a full cargo of general freight loaded on the Sound.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY

Annual Meeting of Juvenile Helpers of Mission Work.

The annual meeting of the Junior branches of the Woman's Auxiliary to Missions was held in Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom on Saturday afternoon. Fully 100 children, all of whom were under 16 years of age, were present. Mrs. A. R. Lutton presided. Reports were read by the secretary, Miss Moore, on the undertakings of the mission during the year, and by the Misses Wollaston, M. Tarey and W. Turnbull on the work accomplished by their respective branches, the Cathedral, St. Saviour's and St. John's. All of these were satisfactory.

The Dean of Columbia gave a missionary address and was followed by Miss Crease, who spoke to the children on the work they were doing to help missions to the heathen.

After the meeting tea was served at Bishopscote.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPERS.

Last evening a lively and very enthusiastic bunch of the intending campers of the Young Men's Christian Association met to discuss matters in connection with the 24th camp.

After reports were disposed of, showing the financial position of the camp affairs to be in good shape, officers were elected: President, A. J. Brace; manager, T. Webster; secretary-treasurer, R. Jones, and a camp welfare committee to consist of officers, and S. Young and M. Thomas, with power to add to their numbers.

Camp starts Saturday, June 3, in the old spot at the Gorge, but the campers are requested to bear in mind that bulk of work on small tents is to be done the Saturday previous or other time, so that all may devote June 3 to putting the camp generally into shape.

This is the senior camp of the Young Men's Christian Association, minimum age limit 18, and is an Association privilege.

All members or intending members interested are asked to get in touch soon so that arrangements may be completed.

OWNERSHIP OF POINT GREY LAND

SUIT IS PENDING AGAINST PROVINCE

Portion of Land Selected as Site for University is Involved

The report contained in Vancouver newspapers of last Saturday that suit was pending by the federal government against the provincial authorities involving the ownership of certain lands at Point Grey, has caused a great amount of interest here. In view of the absence of any announcement of the details of the case from Vancouver, where it is stated that the suit will be filed, an investigation has been here from a number of different sources.

It may be announced in the first place that except in two instances which will be named in shadow in case on the titles of purchasers who have bought lands in provincial government auction sales during recent years. The proposed suit concerns the ownership of a certain 450 acres, approximately. The only part of this which has been sold consists of a few acres to two Vancouver men, E. P. Davis, E.C., and Wm. Farrell. All the other lands disposed of at the auction sales were government crown lands and were never the subject of any negotiations between the federal, provincial and municipal governments, or any of them.

But the point of special interest, important to people all over British Columbia as well as to the federal government, is that the tract of land involved in the proposed suit embraces the site of the provincial university. This land was an old reserve of the colonial days, and lies on the southwest section of the point. It is variously described in the records, being mentioned in one document as containing 454 acres and in another about 500 acres.

At prices paid for lands in the vicinity it is estimated to be worth several million dollars; as the site for the university it holds the greatest public interest.

Briefly, the case of the federal government and its claim to this land is alleged to stand exactly on all-fours with the case of Deadman's Island and Stanley Park in Vancouver. In the suit brought to determine the ownership of Deadman's Island the Privy Council decided in favor of the Dominion government, and it is pointed out that the same set of circumstances existed in the present case as in the Deadman's Island case, and that, if anything, they are clearer and more certainly in favor of the federal government.

While the matter has only now become public property, it is understood that the possibility of a suit being entered was brought to the attention of the provincial government some time ago. Long before the province decided in any way with the lands by auction or otherwise its ministers, according to a statement made to-day, were notified by the Dominion government of the claim which the Ottawa people had, or thought they had, to the land.

contained in the archives across James Bay supporting the provincial government's claim to the land has not been announced, but it has always been understood in a general way that provincial authority was derived from some re-conveyance of the old Admiralty reserve containing this 454 acres to the province. The federal government, putting its case briefly, does not admit the existence of any such conveyance but, on the other hand, Ottawa insists that the land was conveyed to the federal government from the Imperial authorities in just the same way as was Deadman's Island. That is the substance of the federal position. Here is the history of the contention in detail:

It is stated in the decision of the judicial committee of the privy council in the Deadman's Island appeal that amongst the first of the duties of Governor Douglas in British Columbia was the selection of a suitable site for the new colony, this capital to be chosen for strategic as well as other reasons. New Westminster having been selected, certain military and naval reserves were made to protect the rear of the position. Military reserves were made on Burrard Inlet, including Stanley Park, with Deadman's Island, another controlling the entrance to the north arm at Barnet and two on Moody Arm. For the same purpose naval reserves were made at Point Atkinson and Point Grey and on the south shore of English Bay (Country Club) to protect the entrance to the harbor.

That it is clear that the Point Grey reserve, which is this same 454 acres, that the suit is now about, was made for such a purpose is urged, judging from a return from an address of the legislative assembly of British Columbia dated January 14, 1872. This return gives a list of the government reserves in the province, as shown by official maps, admiralty charts and the government gazette. The returns from the admiralty charts are the oldest, for the reason that, in the absence of maps in the colonial days, it was the custom of the officials of those times to mark reserves in admiralty charts. In this return, given to the legislature, the Point Grey 454 acres is given as one of the reserves shown by the admiralty charts and is described as "marked permanent."

The information as to the Admiralty charts was furnished to the legislature by B. W. Pearce, a surveyor-general of the colonial days. This is the first log of the story. Then the affair takes a jump of a dozen years and again the facts are related as they were presented to the Privy Council in the Deadman's Island case and on which the decision was given in favor of the federal government. In 1882 and 1884 the same facts were made from the home government to transfer to the Dominion such military and naval reserves as it had in British Columbia. In order to do this, the home government (colonial office) consulted the Admiralty, and the war office and from the latter got a schedule of the proposed lands which they were willing should be transferred. Among them is our friend of this suit—officially marked No. 11 and declared in acreage to be about 500, contained in Point Grey. These lands were accordingly transferred to the Dominion government by a dispatch of March 27, 1884.

Deadman's Island, though not then known by that name, was transferred to the federal government at the same time, and by the same token the federal government successfully maintained its right to the Island of this issue and the plan of the federal government is

OIL FUEL FOR C.P.R. LOCOMOTIVES

WILL BE TRIED BETWEEN COAST AND KAMLOOPS

Vice-President Whyte Recommends Use of Oil on Whole of Mountain Section

Winnipeg, May 16.—William Whyte, vice-president of the C. P. R., who returned from the west last night, says: "The purpose of my trip to the coast was to make an inspection of certain improvements which are now being made and to consider on the ground, especially in Victoria and Vancouver, the important betterments which are to be made in the future."

"In Vancouver it is essential that certain changes be made at the depot in order to afford room for the great expansion of business," said Mr. Whyte. "Alternative plans have been considered."

As to the proposal to create extensive yards at Coquitlam, twelve miles east of Vancouver, Mr. Whyte stated that these yards would be sufficiently large to provide for the developments of many years.

Asked with reference to the proposed use of crude oil in the locomotives of the company between Vancouver and Kamloops, Mr. Whyte stated that it had been fully decided to make this experiment. Not only so, but the vice-president has decided to recommend to the president the use of oil as a fuel in the locomotives for the entire distance through the mountains. One of the reasons for this was the removal of the danger from conflagrations in the great forests of British Columbia. The losses from fires caused by locomotives throughout the continent have been beyond computation and the use of oil would reduce the danger to a minimum.

Mr. Whyte also alluded to this connection to the cause of the failure of the immense locomotives which are now in use.

"It is not a failure of the locomotive," he said, "it is a failure of a fireman. A fireman shovelling coal on one of these locomotives for a distance of 10 miles is physically completely exhausted before getting to the end of the run. When hiring firemen at present we look for broad-chested, stalwart men. When we use oil we will look not for physical strength, but for intelligence. We will need men skilful enough to regulate the flow of oil to correspond with the use of steam."

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

Chicago, May 16.—The body of a man whose arms had been pinned to both sides and his legs wrapped with a heavy wire, was taken from the river at the Madison street bridge last night. There is a single clew to his identity, the laundrymark "M. A. 454." The police are of the opinion that he was the victim of murder "by slugs" and that possibly he was slain as a result of labor troubles. The body was badly bruised and there appears to be a bullet wound in his right leg below the knee.

TO CURTAIL POWER OF LORDS.

London, May 16.—The fight in the House of Commons over the bill to curtail the powers of the House of Lords ended last night. An amendment to reject the bill was defeated by 352 to 213, and the measure was carried on its third reading by 352 to 241.

Announcement of the vote was received with tremendous outbursts of applause. The debate in the House of Lords yesterday, on the second reading of Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reconstitution of the Upper House indicated that the leaders of the peers will vote in favor of the bill involving their own political extinction.

FIGHTING IN MOROCCO.

Relacon, Morocco, May 16.—The section of the French relief column under Lieut.-Col. Ravoux engaged the rebels at Merata on Sunday. The rebellious tribesmen lost 100 men killed and 200 wounded.

Other parts of the French column were fiercely attacked by Tschir tribes. The French drove off the enemy at the point of the bayonet. The column is proceeding to Fez to the aid of the beleaguered Sultan and French forces at the capital.
